One Killed When Karachi Police Break Up Big Mob

Seven Seriously Injured and Twenty-six Slightly Hurt When Guards Drive Rioters From Court-house Where Six Leaders of All-India Nationalist Congress on Trial; Quiet Restored in Calcutta, But Much Damage Is Seen.

Canadian Press.
Karachi, India, April 16.—One person was killed, seven were seriously injured and twenty-six others were slightly injured in rioting here to-day after a mob had stormed the magistrate's court.
Police fired on the mob and beat off many of the rioters with staves. Then, aided by Indian troops, they arrested the leaders and took them to the Karachi jail.
The injured persons were taken to a hospital, where the condition of two of them was reported to be serious.
Those most gravely injured were struck by bullets of the police, but some blows and stones were responsible for the death of one and the injuries to others.
Two European sergeants were injured in the melee in the court compound.
The mob smashed windows in the court building.
The gathering originated when six leaders of the All-India National Congress were arrested and charged in court with participating in Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign. At the same time, books, flags and signboards were seized in raids on Nationalist printing offices. Dock laborers and sweepers went on strike in protest against the arrests.
Twenty arrests in Calcutta.
As dawn crept up from Bengal Bay, on the other side of India, quiet reigned in Calcutta, where riots had been rampant yesterday. Fifty persons were injured in the mob clashes, which finally ended hours after midnight in a futile attack on the Presidency.
Twenty rioters were arrested, nine of them found on house-tops armed with bricks and stones.
Wrecked street cars lay idle in the streets as workers went to their labor to-day. Broken windows, shattered gates and torn-down fences were prominent in the downtown section; sticks, stones and rubbish littered the streets.
Nine Europeans, including two women, were being given hospital attention, seriously injured; one native also was in grave condition.

Three hundred Nationalist volunteers marched from Congress House at noon with the deliberate object of raiding the Government's salt pans and depots at Wadal, eight miles away.

GOVERNOR SEES BIG NEW HYDRO PLANT
Vancouver, April 16.—Kuskin, where an army of men is harnessing another great unit of British Columbia's water power, was the goal of Lord and Lady Willingdon to-day. They left their special train this morning for a trip up the Fraser Valley to view the construction work on the B.C. Electric Railway Company's new hydro plant.
They were accompanied by W. G. Murrin, president, J. I. Russell, vice-president, and E. E. Carpenter, consulting engineer.
Luncheon was served at the company's guest bungalow. The Russian trip was the only item on the programme of the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon to-day.

MacDonald Holidays As Treaty Completed
Canadian Press.
London, April 16.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald left London to-day in an aeroplane for his old home at Lismouth, Scotland, where he will spend the Easter holidays. The Premier, much worn in health as a result of the long Naval Limitation Conference grind, did not leave, however, until he had a last minute conference with Secretary H. L. Stimson of the United States delegation and Hideo Wakisaka, head of the Japanese delegation.

Mr. MacDonald said he would return to London probably Monday, or at any rate in time for the closing plenary session of the conference, which tentatively has been set for 10:30 a.m. next Tuesday morning.

WIFE ON CLAUSE
London, April 16.—Premier MacDonald, Secretary Stimson and Hideo Wakisaka of Japan to-day reached an agreement on the outstanding clause of the London naval pact, which had been left in abeyance over night to enable the Japanese to study the proposed clause.
The wording of the clause, which is designed to protect the three big naval powers in the event that non-signatories should begin a big building programme, is being cabled to Tokyo by the Japanese delegation.

It is understood the Japanese also are calling the treaty text piece by piece to Japan as it is completed in order to expedite the government's approval of it.

U.S. OFFICIALS INVESTIGATE RADIO MERGER

Department of Justice Looks Into Union of R.C.A. and Other Firms
Senator Dill of Washington Says Big Trust Has Been Formed

Washington, April 16.—Asserting a "new radio trust" had been formed, Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, urged in the Senate to-day that the Department of Justice inquire into the reported sale by the Radio Corporation of America of $343,000,000 in stock to the General Electric and Westinghouse Companies in payment for radio patents.

Washington, April 16.—The Department of Justice announced this afternoon that it was investigating the proposed affiliation between the Radio Corporation of America, the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Company in the manufacture of radio equipment and was concerned about it.

Washington, April 16.—David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, said to-day that an important arrangement between his company and the General Electric and the Westinghouse Company was to be formally announced to-day at 3 o'clock in New York.
Sarnoff, who called at the White House to-day, added that the Radio Corporation would unify rights of manufacture and sale of radios and predicted it would result in a reduced price on radio sets and tubes.
Under the existing arrangement, R.C.A. has the selling rights and Westinghouse and General Electric the manufacturing rights.

U.S. TO PUT TARIFF LEVY ON LEATHER

House Conferees Win Over Senate Group and Remove Hides From Free List

Washington, April 16.—The House conferees on hides, leathers and shoes, all now on the free list, were agreed upon to-day by the congressional conferees on the tariff bill.

By forcing the Senate group to recede from the Senate action in four times voting down duties on the hide and leather products, the House conferees scored their biggest victory since the two groups met to adjust differences over the Hawley-Smoot measure.

The hide, leather and shoe duties were one of the hardest fought in the Senate tariff struggle.

The rates accepted are 10 per cent on hides, 12 1/2 to 20 per cent on leathers and 20 per cent on shoes.
The Senate bill restored all of these to the free list, where they have been for years.
Straw hats, the higher priced fur hats, novelty jewelry, lace and embroidered handkerchiefs, matches and cork products were assigned higher duties to-day by the conferees in grappling with the fifth and last rate section of the Hawley-Smoot measure.
Reduced tariffs were agreed upon for the cheaper fur hats, and unset diamonds, pearls and other precious and semi-precious stones.

The paper said he would seek asylum in Sweden. Sobolev declared he had never been a member of the Communist Party.

Another Candidate For the "Caterpillar Club"

B.C. University And Its Part In Provincial Life

T. D. Pattullo, M.P.P., Outlines History of Institution and Forecasts Successful Future for It in Address to Vancouver Canadian Club To-day; An Important Provincial Asset.

Vancouver, April 16.—Events leading to the establishment of the University of British Columbia, the history of the university since it was founded in 1913 and the value of university training were dealt with by T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition in the B.C. Legislature, in the course of an interesting talk before the Canadian Club this afternoon.

Mr. Pattullo pointed to the enviable record of the university in regard to scholarships and the important contributions to science and learning made by students of the university.

Mr. Pattullo emphasized that the university was not merely for the sons and daughters of wealthy parents. Half of the men students attending were financing their own college career. On the progress of the university he said it must either go ahead or it will retrograde, and he pointed to the necessity of meeting building and other requirements created by its growth. Instead of the university being considered a liability public opinion should recognize it as an asset, the speaker remarked.

His address in full follows:
"Before the Canadian Club, itself a university for the inspiration and inculcation of ideals of citizenship worthy of our great Dominion, one may approach the subject, 'The University of British Columbia,' as he would a fruitful and fertile soil in springtime, with all nature buoyant and ready to respond bounteously."
"For many generations there has been argument as to the proper scope and function of university effort. Perhaps this is due in considerable measure to continually changing conditions. There are some few who argue that we are getting too much education, especially in its higher branches, and indeed, they attribute many of the ills from which we suffer at the present time to too much, rather than too little, education. This argument, of course, is futile, for there is an innate impulse driving humanity to ever-widening knowledge."

"Notwithstanding that many who attend our universities may not appear to have acquired the attainments which one might be led to expect, the fact is that the general standard has been raised and cannot help but be beneficial in the grand aggregate."

Defeat Partick Thistle By 2-1 In Replayed Match

Teams Battled to Scoreless Draw Last Saturday; To-day's Replay First in Scottish Cup Finals Since 1914; 102,479 People in Attendance.

Canadian Press.
Glasgow, Scotland, April 16.—The Glasgow Rangers defeated Partick Thistle 2-1 in to-day's replay of the final for the Scottish Football Association Cup. The match was played at Hampden Park. The Rangers and Partick Thistle battled to a scoreless draw on Saturday.

The attendance was 102,479, a record for a mid-week soccer match and a wonderful figure for even this city of football. Both teams belong to Glasgow.

The weather was delightful, although as on Saturday there was a strong wind. It blew from end to end of the field.

DESERVED VICTORY
The Rangers deserved the victory as they were easily fifty per cent better than on Saturday. The Thistles were not so good, their inside forwards failing to strike their usual clever game. Their defence was as sound as ever and compared favorably with that of the Rangers.

It was the Rangers' half-backs who won the match.
CORBET SCORED
The Thistles were one down at the interval, but came to life in the second half when Corbet, their great match-winning forward, took the only opportunity he got and scored a beautiful goal. But the Rangers were not to be denied, and their second goal settled the destination of the cup for the next year.

As the game progressed Partick improved and next forward play brought them into contact with Hamilton in the Rangers' goal. But Corbet's centre was headed over the bar by Boardman. The exchanges were now more even, but the wind was so troublesome that the defenders on both sides repeatedly kicked out.

Buying of Liquor In U.S. Made Court Test

Supreme Court to Decide If Purchasers of Rum as Well as Sellers Are Liable to Punishment Under Prohibition Law

Washington, April 16.—The liability of the buyer of liquor under the national prohibition law probably will be examined by the Supreme Court of the United States before the end of the first term in June.

The question will come before the court as a result of its decision yesterday to grant the government an appeal in a test case against James E. Farrar of Boston, indicted on a charge of buying liquor from a bootlegger. Chief Justice Hughes announced the case would be set down for argument on April 28, following the Norris case from Philadelphia, in which the government contends the purchaser who orders liquor shipped to him is guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

LOST BOTH CASES

The government lost both cases in the lower courts. The federal district court for Massachusetts held in the Farrar case that the provision of the prohibition law requiring purchasers of liquor to have permits applied only to those authorized under the law to purchase liquor and did not cover purchases from bootleggers. In the Norris case the circuit court of appeals held that purchase of liquor was no offence under the prohibition law and that the transportation incident to delivery of the liquor to the purchaser did not render the purchaser liable to prosecution on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Prohibition Act.

REVENUE QUESTION

The government is urging the court to pass on another phase of prohibition enforcement. It would have the highest tribunal hold that violators of the prohibition law may be punished under the internal revenue laws for defrauding the government of revenue, as well as under the Prohibition Act.

THOMAS IRVINE OF ST. PAUL DIES

St. Paul, Minn., April 16.—Thomas Irvine, nationally known lumberman, died late last night at his home here. He was eighty-eight years old, and was the last surviving member of the original coterie of lumbermen associated with the late Frederick Weyerhaeuser Sr.

Born in York County, Ontario, July 2, 1841, Mr. Irvine was for several years a school teacher at Weston, Ont. He went to Muscatine, Iowa, in the '60s, where he entered the lumber business. He moved to St. Paul in 1869. He was best known for his connection with the Mississippi River Logging Company, organized in 1871, of which firm Mr. Weyerhaeuser was president.

COAST GETS CONTROL OF B.C. PACKERS

Aemilius Jarvis Retires, Stanley Burke of Vancouver New President

Waters Here Now Better Stocked With Fish; Salmon Treaty Praised

Control of the British Columbia Packers will pass from Eastern Canada to the Pacific Coast, the seat of operations, it was intimated at the annual general meeting held in Toronto late yesterday.

President Aemilius Jarvis stated it was the intention to call a special meeting of shareholders to approve a by-law increasing the directorate from six to ten members, choosing the new members chiefly from men on the Pacific Coast. He resigned from the presidency and Stanley Burke of Vancouver was elected in his place. Aemilius Jarvis was appointed chairman of the board; Richard J. Gosse, vice-president and managing director; Robert C. Gosse, vice-president; J. H. Harty of Toronto and F. E. Burke of Vancouver, directors, and F. R. Bartlett of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Gosse moved a resolution commending Mr. Jarvis for his work in the past and regret at his desire to retire from the presidency. He has been associated with the company since 1902. A resolution was passed by the shareholders commending the officers for their past services.

Growth of the business, the need for having the active control near where actual operations were being carried on, were suggested as reasons for increasing the number of western directors.

FISH OUTLOOK IMPROVING

President Jarvis said conditions in the packing industry were on the mend and they looked for better results. Rather than the waters becoming depleted of fish, they were actually becoming better stocked, records show.

The case of the sockeye salmon in the Fraser was a possible exception, but lately their number had also been increasing, strict regulation by the authorities was responsible.

PRaises SALMON TREATY

That Canada would shortly be more favorably situated with regard to the Fraser River catch was the opinion expressed by Managing Director Gosse.

At present, a sixteen-year treaty is being negotiated between Canada and the United States whereby both countries would be entitled to fifty per cent. of the haul from the Fraser River. To ascend the river the fish have to pass through U.S. waters, and since 1913 United States fishermen have been entitled to seventy-five per cent. of the catch and Canadians to only twenty-five per cent. Cost of rehabilitating the waters would be shared by the two countries equally. Mr. Gosse was very hopeful of the treaty being concluded. It was stated no loss in revenue would be occasioned because of the burning of two of the company's canneries, and that they would be replaced in order to keep the licenses.

Retirement of P. W. Grandjean was announced, the vacancy being filled by the election of Stanley Burke, Vancouver.

EXPLOSIVES TALK THEME

R. H. Lyons, Manager of James Island Plant, Addresses Knights of Round Table

The history of explosives, the method in which they were manufactured, their use in the industrial field and in time of war, and the working of the plant on James Island, formed the basis of an interesting address by R. H. Lyons, manager of the Canadian Industries Limited, before the Knights of the Round Table at its gathering in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

Opening his talk, Mr. Lyons traced the development of the explosive industry from its primitive beginnings in China many centuries ago. He then explained the different uses of high explosives in the industrial field, where they were used extensively in mining and construction work.

The manufacture of different types, such as gun cotton, gunpowder and other nitrate products was outlined.

CHEAPER TO IMPORT NITRATE

It was much cheaper to import Chile saltpetre from the famous South American deposits than to manufacture it, Mr. Lyons stated. He then went on to tell of the shipment of the explosives to Great Britain during the war, saying that the boats never left for England without a strong convoy of British battleships. At the conclusion of the address, Major Kirkpatrick Crockett, J. Hudson and other members of the club took part in the general discussion.

F. H. Elliott, principal of Victoria College, invited Mr. Lyons to address the students at some future date.

HOME GUARD TO FIGHT OFF CHINA ROBBERS

In Kwangtung Province Force is Formed to Combat Bandit Gangs

Shanghai, April 16.—Delayed dispatches from Canton yesterday indicated the bandit menace in northern Kwangtung province had lessened, although border cities continued to appeal to provincial authorities for more troops in the endangered area.

A dispatch from Shichow said Canadian citizens there to evacuate the city because of banditry. A message last Thursday said Jenkins had "warned" Shichow to "move out." To-day's advice from Shichow said, however, that Jenkins had urged Americans there to be ready to depart "in case of necessity." The message added that the bandits had been driven away from the city and that the danger was over for the present.

NEWS BY COURIER

Conditions at Linchow, which last week was reported to be the object of bandit activity, were unknown here. The city lacks telegraphic communication, American Presbyterian missionaries there have not evacuated, however. Couriers are required for communicating with Linchow, and a fortnight is needed for an exchange of messages.

Namying, on the northern Kwangtung border, telegraphed Canton for aid, saying the bandits there had withdrawn, but that their return was feared.

Canton authorities dispatch a squadron of planes with the intention of bombing communists and bandits along the Kwangtung-Kiangsi border. Kwangtung authorities are forming a home guard protective force of 9,000 men to combat bandits.

Wider Powers Asked By Snowden Means Move Against the Tax Dodgers

British Chancellor of Exchequer Wants Taxing Authorities to Obtain Fuller Information Regarding Ownership of Income

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

London, April 16.—Britain's reaction to the Snowden budget gives promise of being mild. The stock market was expected to furnish a reflection of financial opinion and while there was depression in the gilt-edged issues and government securities fell off by fractions, and, here and there, a point, yet there was no general unloading and the tone of the city seemed, on the whole, rather cheerful.

"It might have been worse," is an expression that has been heard frequently, and when the condition of the country's finances is taken into account, the revelations of the budget have caused no great surprise.

But throughout yesterday comment inside the House of Commons and without showed that if the budget evoked no very violent attacks, yet it failed to obtain much approbation. The Conservative commoners, through the mouth of Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, who stood in Mr. Snowden's position last year, termed the budget "lush doles for the eager crowd," while the left wing of Labour—the Maxtonites—professed to see in the budget many a sop to the Conservatives and, from the standpoint of Socialism, dubbed it an utter failure.

STUDYING POSSIBILITIES

Outside the House the press and the business men of the country began puzzling out the probable effects, and the exact meaning of the Snowden speech. The increase in the income tax was held by some to injure industry and there was much speculation over Mr. Snowden's expected demand for "wider powers for the taxing authorities in obtaining information regarding the ownership of income."

The financial district began to buzz with the question of whether the "wider powers" the Chancellor of Exchequer desires are connected with the evasion of the surtax on incomes, which Mr. Snowden mentioned in the same breath, or whether it constitutes merely a threat or deeper investigation to the general body of taxpayers. An authoritative statement was given to newspapermen, however, discounting the latter interpretation and defining the Chancellor's statement as concerning one particular source of income about which the authorities at present find themselves unable to obtain information.

TO PURSUE TAX DODGERS

It is the general opinion, however, that this step to clear up this "particular source of income" will mark the beginning of a general offensive against the tax dodgers. The financial experts differ widely in regard to the extent to which the Treasury will probably benefit if it is granted these wider powers of inquiry, the estimates ranging all the way from £5,000,000 to £55,000,000, or from about $24,360,000 to $267,850,000.

The method of evading the surtax by a single premium insurance policy was explained yesterday by Lord Decies, director of the Income Taxpayers' Society, who said:

"Insurance companies have been offering to insure people on a payment of one large premium, of which they return the greater proportion as a loan against the policy as security. The insured person pays the annual interest on the loan and deducts this interest from his total taxable income."

Lord Decies said he understood many insurance companies had discontinued this type of business.

TUCKED AWAY £50,000

Another method of avoiding the surtax was mentioned most candidly by Sir George Courthope, prominent Conservative, agriculturalist and director of companies, in a recent speech before the Yorkshire branch of the Landowners' Association—a speech which Sir George may possibly regret as a challenge by the government.

Sir George said he had taken advantage of the Agricultural Credits Act to borrow on the value of rural property and, as a result, he was enabled to tuck away £50,000, about $243,000, which he declared with some complacency was "out of reach of the surtax and Socialist activity."

Perhaps one of the greatest dangers arising out of the surtax increase and the increase in the ordinary income tax rate was that hinted at last night by Lord Decies when he said the time "might have come" for serious consideration by wealthy men of the idea of sending their money out of the country. The general feeling, however, is that capital will prefer to stick by the ship at least a little longer and a general exodus of money is considered unlikely.

One point of Mr. Snowden's speech found favor with the business community and its interpretation was expressed by Lord Decies. It was the proposal of Mr. Snowden to alter the law regarding the liability of non-resident traders who earn profits in Britain through agents. While Lord Decies said the Chancellor alone could clear up one or two now obscure points in this connection, he, Lord Decies, thought the intended alteration would be used as a bargaining lever to obtain some relief for the British trader selling abroad from taxes and duties.

"The foreigner," pointed out Lord Decies, "escape much more lightly here than does the British trader who is placed at a serious disadvantage in some countries where he sells his goods. I hope this move may result in an eventual lightening of the taxes on British trading abroad."

A protest was voiced in the House of Commons against the government's announced intention to allow the duties on lace to lapse when they expire in June. Sir Henry Betterson, Conservative member for the Rushcliffe division of Nottingham, said the industry of his neighborhood had received Mr. Snowden's announcement with consternation and despair. Sir Henry felt the effect of the United States duty on lace, taken in conjunction with the lowering of the British bars, would mean that foreign lace, which formerly was sent to the United States, would swamp Britain.

DR. H. H. FURNESS DIES
Philadelphia, April 16.—Dr. Horace Howard Furness, sixty-five, noted Shakespearean editor and scholar, died suddenly at his home here yesterday.

Dr. Furness's father was a world-famous authority of Shakespeare and the son took up the work when the elder Furness died.

CHURCHILL NOT OPEN TO PUBLIC TILL NEXT YEAR

The Pass. Man. April 16.—Churchill will probably not be thrown open to the public this year, in the opinion of Premier John Bracken, who returned yesterday from his first visit to the Hudson Bay report.

Mr. Bracken stated it would seem unwise to open it to the public as no provision has as yet been made for public utilities other than those for the government men who will be employed there this year.

The Premier and a party of prominent officials and prospective tenderers on the 2,600,000 bushel grain elevator for Churchill want to the Flin Flon mine to-day and will travel to Cold Lake to-morrow. They will leave The Pas Friday night for the south.

Churchill's location is well expressed with the magnitude of the development at Churchill.

CHINA BARS MOVIE

Nanking, April 16.—The Nationalist government's administrative council yesterday evening issued instructions to all provincial governments forbidding the showing of Harold Lloyd's film play, "Welcome Danger." BUDGET PROSPECTS

IN THE OPINION OF THE TORONTO
Globe the budget which Hon. Charles Dunning will introduce in Parliament soon will include tariff increases against U.S. goods on the one hand and a substantial reduction of the duties on British goods on the other, as well as trade agreements with Newfoundland and other countries.

The Canadian people desire to do more business within the empire. They realize that as we are continually increasing our productive capacity by the development of our natural resources, it will be necessary to strengthen our present markets and find new ones for the growing volume of commodities from our farms and factories.

It is remembered that Sir Wilfrid Laurier established the British Preference in 1897 and the duty on a number of commodities Britain sells to Canada has been reduced by the King government. It is now suggested that these concessions be extended, which would mean that the more we buy from the Old Country, the more it will buy from us.

The general attitude of the Canadian people to trade expansion is that preference shall be given first of all to Canadian goods, then to goods produced within the empire. Obviously this implies higher duties against foreign products, and there can be no objection to these as long as they do not penalize Canadian consumers.

The Globe predicts also that the Minister of Finance will impose an emergency tariff against New Zealand butter, pending the negotiation of a treaty with that Dominion, the present duty of one cent a pound on butter from Australia under treaty having been extended by order-in-council to New Zealand. We do not know how reliable this information is. It will be recalled that when the trading arrangements with the southern Dominions were under fire in the House of Commons recently, Mr. Dunning contended that it would be poor business to make serious changes in respect of the arrangement with New Zealand unless it were found impossible to negotiate a new treaty to remedy certain conditions complained of at present. After all, our trade with the Antipodes is very one-sided in our favor.

We are told, too, that definite proposals will be made with the object of stimulating the market for Canadian wheat in the United Kingdom, and British products, like anthracite, in Canada. Here is a case for careful negotiation. No doubt the Wheat Pool has learned a good deal in recent months which will be of value to it in the future, while if Great Britain is able to deliver hard coal to us as cheaply as we can import it from the United States, there is a $30,000,000 market here awaiting her producers.

A RECORD OF COURAGE

THE HUMAN RACE COMMITS FOLLIES
Enough, day by day, to justify the formation of whole battalions of pessimists; but every now and then it also does something that demands whole-hearted admiration.

In Baltimore there is a doctor named Frederick Henry Baetjer. He has been a famous X-ray scientist for thirty years. His studies have helped enormously in the use of X-rays in medicine; a great many people are alive and in good health now who would have been dead if it had not been for Dr. Baetjer.

But all of this has cost him something. He has been a repeated victim of the deadly, painful X-ray burns, which attack the scientist occasionally when experiments are carried on too enthusiastically. He has suffered so much, in fact, that he has had fifty-two operations. One of his eyes is gone. He has lost seven fingers. He has undergone repeated skin-grafts. He has suffered intense pain. His life has been despaired of repeatedly.

But he refuses to be frightened, refuses to give up his work, refuses even to lose his good spirits. He returns to his work after each operation, and seems to feel that his life is as pleasant as any man's might be.

Now a little story like this of Dr. Baetjer goes far to offset the daily chronicling of lunacies and cruelties that newspapers are obliged to furnish us. It speaks something in human nature that is supremely unselfish, daring and unconquerable. As long as men like this Baltimore doctor can live, no one needs to despair of the race.

We need stories like that. There are times when the most optimistic of men, surveying the race's activities in all their manifestations, is justified in growing discouraged; times when it seems as if man's capacity for stupidity and evil is so stupendous that there is no use hoping for anything very fine from the future.

But that is not a complete picture. Side by side with the ugly round of daily news there are stories like this one. The human race must, after all, have some relationship with the divinity it dreams of when it can produce such a man.

You can look on either side of the picture that you choose, of course. But there is no reason why you should not believe that the side represented by Dr. Baetjer is not the side that really means the most.

OFF THE TRACK

IT WILL BE NOTED THAT CONSERVATIVE newspaper critics of the King government who are trying to make political capital by attacking the legislation prohibiting the export of liquor from Canada to the United States carefully suppress the following:

1. The legislation stopping these exports was recommended to Parliament by a committee of the House of Commons of which Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, and Hon. H. H. Stevens, his chief lieutenant, were members.

2. Canada's signature is on an agreement with the United States which binds both countries to do their utmost to prevent smuggling into one another's territory.

3. The legislation prohibiting exports was approved by both parties in Parliament, the chief criticism of the opposition being against the delay in introducing it.

4. The fact that there was practically no opposition to the legislation shows that in the opinion of Conservative as well as Liberal members it reflects the will of the majority of the Canadian people.

If this matter should become a political issue, Mr. Bennett's ground for criticism must be that this legislation—which has his party's support—was not brought down earlier. And if he should urge this, the present Conservative critics of the legislation itself will promptly swallow themselves on this aspect of their criticism and will join him in condemning the government because so excellent and necessary a measure was not submitted to Parliament four years ago when it was recommended by their leader.

A QUESTION FOR OURSELVES

IT IS BEING ASKED FREQUENTLY WHY
Canada is not exporting more eggs, butter, cheese and bacon to the British market, why our producers are letting foreign countries beat them in territory they ought to be able to dominate. Mr. John F. Sweeting, Industrial Commissioner for the western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, has recently toured the prairie provinces and reports increased activity in the production of these important food commodities. He comments as follows:

Home consumption has increased so rapidly that notwithstanding the large increase in production, little is available of any one of the above products for the export market. More especially in the British Isles, immense quantities can be absorbed now that the standard and availability of market is high. It is this demand and availability of market which is stabilizing the western situation and is of undoubted importance to agricultural prosperity, broadening, as it does, the scope of farm production, adding to the impetus already existing in the development of manufacturing industries and the opening up of the mineral resources of the west.

The point to be remembered, especially in the case of butter, is that our butter-makers have been selling more of their butter at home, first because there is a market for it, and in the next place because they can get more for it at home than in the export world markets. Upon this phase of the subject The Manitoba Free Press recently said:

Our domestic price, variously attacked as too low, has been from two to fourteen cents a pound over export prices for years past. Canada butter-makers must, however, accustom themselves to the fact that at present and for the future, so long as existing conditions continue, they could not, if they would, sell their product in the British market. If they cannot compete in their home market with the output of the New Zealand factories with out a protective duty of four cents a pound, which is the claim on their behalf made by their spokesmen before the tariff board, they must regard the British market, which last year absorbed 685,000,000 pounds of imported butter, as closed to them; because there they will have to meet the New Zealand butter to say nothing of the Danish—without any margin of advantage at all.

There is no tariff in Great Britain against a great variety of Canadian goods that might be sold in that country. Our bacon and cheese, for instance, established a reputation over there; but these and our meat products have almost disappeared from the British market. Are we producing the right kind of goods at the right price? This would seem to be a question for our own producers to ask themselves and find the answer. It is obviously a matter for us, not those to whom we would sell, to consider.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BUY AT HOME
The Saint John Telegraph-Journal
If Canadian purchasers would only stop and think whether the goods they buy are made in Canada or elsewhere, this country would reap a great advantage. There is not any doubt but that much of the imports from the United States could be supplied in Canada.

DIGGING THE DITCH
The Toronto Star
The prospects for the deepening of the St. Lawrence have not been bright. They are not bright now. Only the hope that springs eternal in the human breast keeps alive in the minds of those who have been following the progress of events the thought that this may be one case in which "the darkest hour is before the dawn."

AN EQUINE RENAISSANCE
The St. Louis Globe-Democrat
The farm tractor is receiving some of the blame for the present low prices of corn, oats and hay. The tractor is not doing its part, it is said, in the consumption of farm crops. While farm surpluses increase and prices decline, it adheres to a diet of gasoline and lubricating oil. The plough horse, on the other hand, is a large consumer, as well as a producer, of agricultural products. There is nothing he likes better than eating away a farm surplus, whether it be a surplus of oats, corn or hay. Ten years ago there were 21,000,000 horses on the farms of the country and in 1929 there were but 14,000,000.

PROFITS AND SALARIES
The Quebec Action Catholique
Modern industry is organized in such a way that the worker can only receive starvation wages—this happens only too often—while capital receives an absolutely unvaried rate of interest. To appreciate this, one only has to consider for a moment how our different trusts have organized their businesses and with what care they have divided and subdivided their organization, and how many subsidiaries they have created. Is it necessary to add that one often sees companies protesting that they are utterly incapable of paying better salaries, as their capital is receiving practically nothing, although we know that the great bulk of the capital in question has never been paid in cash and is simply plain water? Does it not seem reasonable to ask which of the two methods is the more economic, that which assures a livelihood to the man who has to work for a living, or the other which assures profits to capital which has never been subscribed.

Fools make a mock at sin.—Proverbs xix 9.
All men are fools, and with every effort they differ only in the degree.—Boileau.

Loose Ends

Victoria does something quaint at last—Mr. Don paints a nose red and talks in an Oxford accent—and there is more work for Mr. Loughheed's sign wrecker.

By H. B. W.

FOR MANY years well-meaning but misguided people have conducted an innocent conspiracy to make Victoria appear to the outside world as a backward sort of community where the population plays golf, drinks tea and deplores the other parts of Canada. To the world they have represented us "odd" and "quaint," as if we were some relic of the Roman invasion on the coast of England. Up to the last few days one could never see (apart, of course, from the imprisonment of the white bear at Beacon Hill and the innumerable coal scuttles of the City Hall) any reason for this reputation, which probably has been accepted by many worthy people who have never seen us. In the last few days, however, something really odd and quaint has happened. The city's legal advisers have decided, and the proper officials have been instructed that when the fire department goes to a fire it must carry a sign that reads "observed by the ordinary motorist when he is driving to business. Under the existing statute there can be no exception to it—stop signs, arterial highway rules, speed limit, the considerations of common danger all must be strictly followed out by fire apparatus regardless of the emergency."

SITTING in your home as you read of these things, you will probably find them faintly amusing. You may smile as you think of the fire department, rushing to save the city from total destruction, having to stop six times on the way before entering the city limits, and then being held up by a police policeman so that a baby carriage can cross in front of it. But if your house were burning down about you meanwhile, as you waited for the fire department to crawl along at fifteen miles an hour, you probably would not consider it such a joke. After this has occurred several times, after several citizens have seen their choicest possessions consumed while the fire department is patiently waiting for the stop-and-go signal to change, the city may find itself sued for damages by people who have paid taxes for fire protection and find that they are receiving traffic regulation instead. Happily we have a fire department and a fire chief who, one feels, will manage somehow to protect us, even in spite of the law. Happily there is nothing quaint about them.

THE ACTION of Mr. Kaye Don in painting the "nose" of his car, the Silver Bullet, a "bright red" to make it easily distinguishable to the officials in charge of the timing apparatus at Daytona Beach has excited some apprehension among his countrymen in England. Red noses, as The Manchester Guardian observes apprehensively, used to be regarded as more in keeping with music hall comedians than automobiles, and the Silver Bullet may well feel hurt at having to go about bearing the blameworthy badge of a bilious life. But worse aspects of the matter than that have to be considered. The example of the Silver Bullet is too likely to be followed by the smarter sort of females, who are all wild over anything to do with speed and the test color schemes. Already, it is said, the very smartest have been staining their finger-nails red. Here, says The Guardian, is a new and an obvious inducement to make the nose-painting the nail. Nature, that is to say, nature as known to the smartest set, will be, as the poet might have said "red in nose and nail."

THAT is one aspect of Mr. Don's unfortunate adventure which had escaped attention here; another aspect of it seemed more interesting to Victoria. Talking pictures of Mr. Don and his machine were shown at local movie theatres last week and what seemed to interest the public most was not the driver nor the machine, but Mr. Don's accent. Mr. Don, it was perceived, has one of those super-English accents for which Oxford is usually blamed, and it was clearly in evidence as he explained the workings of his car. In this community, which is much addicted itself to a similar manner of speech, you would have expected it to pass unnoticed while the public concentrated its attention on what Mr. Don had to say. Instead, you would have noticed, had you been in the theatre, that the accent was the thing which caught the public imagination, and instantly a titter went up from all sides, the laugh that spoke the vacant mind.

THE PERSISTENCE of modern merchandizing is really amazing. A year ago, Minister of Public Works Loughheed announced, amid the sound of public rejoicing, that no more signs would be allowed on the highways of this Province. Any signs then in existence would be torn down, said Minister of Public Works Loughheed. After waiting a reasonable time, with warm admiration for Mr. Loughheed, this column ventured to point out that immediately following the minister's announcement more signs had just appeared on some of our island roads, as if to prove him to be a stern measure. Whereupon it was announced that Mr. Loughheed was dispatching an all-arms systematically, one by one. I had supposed that during the winter this splendid programme would be complete and that by this spring the highways would be clean of all such advertising. To my horror I find, on the contrary, that on one of the chief island roads more signs than ever have blossomed forth this spring. On one

GOOD FRIDAY

To the Editor—Rightly named indeed, shall it be rightly named for each one of us. Shall we each make it, so for ourselves? Or shall we pass it by and lose our share in it, so that it is not for you or for me a holy day—but a mere holiday. Oh shame upon such a one for whom the Holy Jesus Christ suffered the agonies of a cruel death to save. We can all spare some time through the day to kneel by that Cross, and there pour out our soul's adoration, thanksgiving and penitence, and there receive from a dying Saviour, the kiss of forgiveness—the blessing of peace in our hearts; there yield our wills to our hearts to Him who gave His life for us. We can do this if we will listen to His call. The Holy Spirit will help us to do it if we will look up and ask for His help. On the eternal value of such coming to Christ. Oh, the loss of not coming, and the door stands ever open, and the arms of love reach ever out, and we hear the call "Come unto Me—I will give you rest."

What is it that can keep us from such a Friend, such a Saviour? Can we do more than Jesus has done for us? Let us ask Him to come to us. The Cross, at home or (shall I not say) and in our churches. They stand open for us. Services at 10 a.m., perhaps 11 a.m., at the Cathedral 12 to 3, in memory of those three hours on the Cross. Evening services or lantern lectures such as we shall have at Christ Church Cathedral. We shall hear the church bells come to us. "Come unto Me—I will give you rest." What is it that can keep us from such a Friend, such a Saviour? Can we do more than Jesus has done for us? Let us ask Him to come to us. The Cross, at home or (shall I not say) and in our churches. Give our hearts to thine obedience. Serve and love Thee best of all.

INCONSISTENT

To the Editor—Premier Tolmie's New Year's message to the people of British Columbia was:

"Canada has been buying more than $600,000,000 worth of highly manufactured goods from across the American line and he suggested and recommended that this huge amount of imports be cut to the lowest possible quantity so as to increase the prosperity of Canada."

The apparent irony and inconsistency of this New Year's message is explained, as adjacent to his own constituency the government authorities have decided to buy a $3,500 piece of American-made machinery, the price being considerably higher than that of Canadian article that is made in many parts of Canada and is even manufactured in Vancouver at a lower price and of better quality.

Has the Premier (who has been for many years the organizer of the great Conservative national policy) lost entirely his so much advocated doctrine of "keep the boys and girls at home by buying Canadian goods," when at the present time within a mile of the borders of his own constituency they are buying American machinery that can be more advantageously bought in Canada at a lower price?

I will add the Premier might know an awful lot about oleomargarine, but does he really know anything about his purchasing department, and does he know anything about the tremendous increase of importation of Yukon potatoes that has come in to British Columbia under the protection of the Marketing Control Act? In 1910 it was 300 tons and nearly 10,000 tons under the second year of control. The authorities on the Hawaiian Islands have a very effective way of curbing importations of fruit and vegetables, if they have not got "U.S.A." stamped on the boxes they would find Colorado potato bugs and even a Mediterranean fly if it was necessary.

Premier Tolmie might be very much surprised if he visited the C.P.R. docks early in the morning and could see the quantities of Oregon and California fruits and vegetables that are flooding our local markets.

These sentiments are not Liberalism or Conservatism, but are public opinion, and there will be no shrinking violet attitude when public opinion expresses itself at the next election: "ARTEMUS," A VULGAR COLONIAL.

MORE BEER FACILITIES? TO WHAT INTENT?

To the Editor—The phone rang: "With respect to the announcement, a few days ago, of the city's being canvassed for the purpose of getting beer by the glass, we've been watching every paper, but have seen no protest or denunciation from the prohibition forces. Therefore the local Frances Willard W.C.T.U. appeals to you to write something for the press. Please."

One who has been in the anti-drink fight for fifty years, and knows even a little of the evils dreaded, as already experienced in B.C. beer parlors, needs no second request from such "elect ladies"—the most consecrated and concentrated, the most persistent and consistent, whether in political or civic campaigning or in educative work, of all in this land—or any land—engaged in the great and difficult size. Only be it understood that what I here say is, not merely a sympathetic response, but an expression of deliberate though very earnest conviction.

The counts against beer drinking are not new; that it is an alcoholic beverage, drunk chiefly for the "kick" in it, that alcohol is placed by the latest science as neither a food nor a stimulant, but a habit-forming narcotic drug, the amount medically prescribed now being the merest fraction of that

DO CANADIANS WANT TOO MUCH FOR WHEAT?

By CHARLES ELLIS

Those individuals and other interests, who oppose the pools, including even members of Parliament, maintain:

First—That there is real overproduction of wheat.

Second—That there is accumulating a real world surplus of wheat.

And third—That the Canadian grower and the United States grower is demanding a price for his wheat which is not justified by the economic circumstances presently prevailing.

To decide whether the Canadian public, Canadian business and Canadian governments should continue to support the growers' pools, the questions raised by opposing interests, as above stated, should be carefully considered. Although the following statistics are approximations they are close enough to help us to decide whether or not we should support our growers' pools.

REAL OVERPRODUCTION OF WHEAT:

For the past few years the average world production, excluding that of Russia, approximates three billion five hundred million bushels. Russia grows hardly sufficient for her own needs. When she exports wheat it is done because her external transportation facilities are not adequate to the demands of the country. It is economical for her to export from some parts and import through others.

Excluding Russia, there approximate five hundred million wheat consumers. Then the amount of wheat produced per year for each wheat consumer approximates seven bushels. Considering one bushel to equal sixty pounds, the total wheat available per day, for each consumer, is less than one and one-quarter pounds. Remembering the multiplicity of uses of wheat other than human consumption, this basis of calculation seems very conservative. The picture presented does not indicate necessity for alarm despite the apparent panic of the legislative gentlemen and wheat statisticians of Manitoba.

But alarmists say, there is being built up a real wheat surplus! Is this really or only apparently so?

What constitutes a real surplus of wheat? Let it be for our purpose an amount of wheat left over after all current demands for any one year are satisfied and after provision is made for sufficient reserve to tide us through emergencies which might arise before another crop is available. This is a quantity rather difficult to determine as the world's supply is progressive as to time available. However, we can closely approximate it by

HUNTERS KILL STRANGE ANIMAL

Edmonton, April 14.—Hunters and trappers of the Province of Alberta near Fort Assiniboine are convinced a new hybrid specimen roams the wooded country where they seek a living. It is a cross between a deer and a moose—hitherto unknown.

William Erickson, who has most of his life hunted in the woods, killed several last winter. Several others were brought down, he said, before he was convinced the cross had actually occurred. Thick horns, heavy neck, high shoulders like those of a moose and a body covered with dark, almost black hair characterized the hybrid.

Throughout last winter trappers in the Freeman River district saw small cow moose followed by animals answering the description of the one described by Erickson.

considering the amount used and then deciding whether any balance from what is produced is sufficient to care for requirements over a reasonable period of time.

Over a five-year period, statistics indicate that there has accumulated a world surplus of wheat approximating two hundred million bushels. That is, the world has produced more wheat than it has consumed in the last five years. This indicates that of the three billion five hundred million average world production, three billion four hundred and sixty million bushels are yearly consumed and that the yearly balance of forty million bushels is less than would meet the demands of consumers for five days. Also it indicates that the total present available surplus is less than would supply world consumers' needs for twenty days.

WOULD WIPE OUT RESERVE

These figures suggest that a six per cent decrease in world production, or an equal present increase in world consumption, would completely wipe out our total present surplus. How many acts of man can you imagine is possible to destroy the thin balance suggested above? We suggest that the "acts of God" that is natural interferences which could do so, are numerically legion. Yet our alarmists profess there exists a real surplus of wheat. The fears they would instill are based upon flimsy shadows and, we suspect, the well-informed of such people, are indulging in propaganda aimed to adversely affect our growers' pools.

Is the price asked by our growers' pools too high?

We do not know exactly what price the Canadian grower asked for his wheat during the last crop year. We may assume that he asks more than one dollar and less than one dollar and eighty cents, in that, at these high and low quotations, he has not sold his wheat. Guess his asked price to be one dollar and forty cents per bushel. Emphasize that these figures are assumptions, based upon approximate quotations of wheat trade exchanges; then, is one dollar and forty cents too high a price for our growers' wheat?

This price per bushel, less transportation charges, is what our Canadian grower would receive, if his wheat was all of the highest commercial grade. It would amount to less than two and one half cents per pound for his commodity. But transportation charges and lower than best grade average price, account for a cost of nearly one cent per pound on his price, so that, if we assume the Canadian grower receives approximately one and one-half cents per pound, or ninety cents per bushel for his wheat, when the quoted price is one dollar and forty cents per bushel, we shall be approximately correct. The cost of growing wheat in Canada during the past five years, has averaged nearly eighty-eight cents per bushel. The grower, then, at above-quoted price, receives two cents per bushel more than cost of growing. This is not too much to pay his legitimate management charges and household wages. At one dollar and forty cents per bushel, our grower is not receiving as his share too much cash.

SEEK TO BUY CHEAPEST

Purchasing pools assert, however, that, because they can buy wheat cheaper elsewhere, Canadian growers should sell to meet other prices. They say in effect, "We are not interested in what is your standard of living, or what it costs to maintain it. What we are interested in, is that the price you ask is greater than what we pay elsewhere for wheat. We suggest that you remedy the cost of maintaining your standard of living, by lowering your cost of general materials and services. If you do this, you can live at the same standard and sell your wheat to us at a price much nearer that which we offer."

We Canadians are living in a high cost country. Whether it is economically sound to do so is for our economists and our governments to decide. The point for us is that we are as we are, not as we were, or as we shall be, or even as Europe wishes us to be. If economic circumstances demand that we change from a high to a low cost country, we must bow gracefully to the inevitable. But the necessary adjustments must not be made at the dictates of Europe, nor must it be made suddenly. To attempt the latter would cause general financial and business pandemonium.

CAN EUROPE AFFORD IT

Can Europe afford to buy our wheat at one dollar and forty cents per bushel?

Assume that Europe obtains wheat at a much lower price elsewhere than here and, if their purchasing pools can sell wheat to say, millers, at a price giving them a profit equivalent to what the average world grower obtains, he is obtaining a fair return for his labor and upon his invested capital, and if the costs from producer storage here, to flour distribution in Europe are such as to allow bread to be sold in England at four and one-quarter cents per pound and, at that figure European bakers are making a substantial profit, it would seem the price Europe pays for our wheat is within their ability. Our asked price is not too high.

The only sound reason for Canada to change from a high cost country to a low cost country would be, as previously suggested, that of economic necessity.

Economic necessity would exist in a gold standard world as that reason, if there was insufficient money and credit, so distributed as to be ready available for transacting world business. If there is not enough credit in the world, it is an indication that our civilization is still very unstable. As lack of credit extension suggests that governments and banks of different countries distrust each other. Such distrust means general business is drifting toward disaster. If such is the case, the Canadian wheat-growing industry may as well meet disaster now, as later. But it is not the case.

HIGH OR LOW COSTS

The struggle raging between our growers' pools and European purchasing pools may have its root in a difference of opinion, as to whether high costs or low cost policies shall prevail in world business and the difference will likely be settled by gradual lowering of Canadian costs and a gradual raising of European costs and each increasing its standard of living by extending credit to its own public of small capital means.

During the period of adjustment, business will require a financial shock absorber to lighten the burden imposed. The source of that assistance is the country's credit pledged by our governments. This is now being extended to our greatest industry to help it weather a very severe storm, brought about to some extent, by institutions, here and abroad, whose private interests are perhaps best served by the non-existence of growers' pools.

The figures stated demonstrate there is no real overproduction of wheat, that there is no real and permanent surplus of wheat; that under present Canadian business economic, our grower is not getting too much for his wheat when the grain exchange quoted prices, at Winnipeg, are one dollar and forty cents per bushel. And that European purchasing agencies can well afford to buy our wheat at that price. The reason for the present price war may be that purchasing agencies, whose interests are inimical to a growers' pool and selling agency, would like to see growers' pools non-operative.

Sir E. J. Pollock

Dies in London

Canadian Press
London, April 15.—Sir Edward James Pollock, official referee of the Supreme Court of Judicature for thirty years before his retirement in 1927, and the most revered member of a family eminent in service to the state, died to-day at the age of eighty-nine years. Sir Edward was one of eighteen children of the late Sir Frederick Pollock, Lord Chief Baron of the Court of Exchequer. His uncle, Sir David Pollock, was Chief Justice of Bombay, his eldest brother was for many years Senior Master of the Supreme Court, and some of Sir Edward's brilliant nephews are Lord Hanworth, Master of the Rolls and Former Attorney-General, Mr. Justice Pollock, Rt. Rev. Bertram Pollock, Bishop of Norwich and Sir Adrian Pollock, city chamberlain and treasurer of London.

Sir Edward never recovered fully from the shock of the death of his wife twelve months ago. She was Alice de la Rue of London, and the couple had been married for fifty-eight years. They had been described as "the happiest couple in London." They leave two sons and three daughters.

"MAN OF TERROR"

Called "Russia's man of terror," Nikola Krilenko, Public Prosecutor, has announced he will "exterminate to the last man" those who oppose his plan of extending the death penalty to cover a wider variety of crimes. He is pictured here in a fighting pose as he prosecuted a murder case in Moscow.

YOUR CHILDREN

A certain mother went to her doctor in great distress over her little girl's diet.

"She won't eat what I give her—she plays with her food! We've done everything we can to coax up her appetite," she complained. "Now what had I better do next?"

"Bring her in and I'll look her over," said the doctor.

Hilda May was forthwith produced and the usual procedure gone through. "She's as sound as a nut, a little underweight, perhaps—but she's all right. What do you feed her?"

"The diet you gave me." A quart of milk a day, either plain or in other food, cereal, vegetables, an egg, or chicken, fish, or lamb, or a little beef, stewed fruits, citrus fruits, light desserts—oh, we give her a fine variety.

COOKING ISN'T THE TROUBLE

"How's your cooking?"

"Mother and I do it nearly all ourselves. We're good cooks."

"Do you serve it up in small appetizing portions?"

"Oh, yes."

"Regularly?"

"Just about."

"Does she eat between meals? Or drink milk? Nibble at fruit perhaps?"

"Well, of course, we get worried and we've gotten now that we'll give her food whenever she wants it. But she doesn't want it ever, it seems."

"I don't think your daughter is a problem case," said the doctor. "She may have a little idiosyncrasy against food, as some children have, but I'd even hesitate to call it that. We older people are so fond of calling anything out of our stereotyped man-made programme for children an 'idiosyncrasy'."

EXERCISE A COMMON NEED

"The truth is that nature makes a programme for each child regardless of what we think she ought to make. No two children are exactly alike—and so, as a matter of fact, the food-needs of all children cannot be alike. There is one thing, however, all children alike need, exercise. Metabolism—that is, assimilation of food, must be speeded up by exercise—a great amount of exercise—outdoors, at that."

"I believe I'd invent every excuse you can to keep her busy out of doors. See if you can't get her healthily tired. Tired muscles demand food. Why not let one day go by without offering her any food at all. She will come to you and ask for it very likely. Then try gradually to regulate her time of asking, to meal-time. And don't give her a bite between meals."

"But I wouldn't worry if she does not eat a great amount. Try to get in her full quota of milk. If not, no matter. She'll come to it later. I think. We make too many problem cases out of children who won't eat. Few children deliberately starve themselves."

His advice may be of help to other mothers with the same problem.

CATHOLIC WOMEN REVIEW YEAR OF MUCH ACTIVITY

Mrs. W. McManus Re-elected Victoria President at Annual League Meeting Last Night

Rev. Monsignor Leterme, V.G., addressed the Victoria Subdivision Catholic Women's League at the annual meeting in the Bishop's Palace last evening, congratulating the members on the achievements of the past year and urging a wider field of endeavor for the coming season. The interests of the diocesan organization, the Orphan's Friend, were laid before the meeting and ways suggested by which the members might assist this worthy journal.

Mrs. W. McManus, president of the subdivision, thanked Monsignor Leterme at the close of his address and presented him on behalf of the Victoria League with a subscription towards the Sacred Heart Fund, for the education of priests.

OFFICERS ELECTED

In the election of officers for the coming year, Mrs. W. McManus, president, was returned by acclamation, with her first, second and third vice-presidents, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Sabin and Mrs. Grant, similarly re-elected. The retiring secretary, Mrs. Blair Reid, was replaced by Mrs. S. Taylor, and the retiring treasurer, Mrs. S. Hunter, by Mrs. Kyle. Mrs. Cockerill was elected corresponding secretary in succession to Mrs. Service, and the councillors were as follows: Mrs. Beneman, Mrs. Sealing, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Steiner, Mrs. Mahoney and Mrs. O'Connell.

Beautiful bouquets of carnations and roses were presented to the retiring secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Hunter, and the president thanked them for their long and faithful service, referring also in her address to the willing co-operation of all the membership throughout the year, in the varied activities undertaken by the league in local, national and international affairs. Special reference was made to the conveners of educational, social service, membership, magazine and the press.

REPORTS GIVEN

The annual report of the secretary showed great regularity in the number of meetings, ten regular and nine executives having been held, participation in social service, hospital visiting, tag day, drive for the blind, active interest in St. Louis College, and the welfare of the boys, membership and silver teas, annual bazaar and garden party, sales of home cooking and other activities were summarized.

Interest in St. Ann's Academy and St. Joseph's Hospital had also been keen. Mrs. Hunter gave a most satisfactory accounting of finances and expenditures for the year. Mrs. Cannon for the magazine committee reported the receipt of magazines which were sold and also asked for a greater interest in the number of subscribers.

Miss O'Brien gave a comprehensive report of social service work, showing that no phase of social activity has been neglected and a very great deal of good accomplished. Acknowledgment was made to the friendly help and other agencies with which her work had brought her into contact, and the happy spirit existing amongst the organizations working for the general good of others was stressed with appreciation.

St. Vincent de Paul Society and Ladies' Aid, and St. Joseph's Hospital had rendered invaluable assistance throughout the year. The work of the Sunshine Camp was shown to have benefited twenty-five children in whom the league was interested and many more, mothers, adoptions had been arranged for, rent, fuel and clothing provided. W.C.T.U. Home assisted with clothing, etc. A special report was given by Mrs. O'Leary for interest taken in the work of the Social Service.

EDUCATIONAL REPORT

Mrs. K. T. Hughes, convener of education, reviewed briefly the activities of her convener, which included the presentation of the league's prizes, offered annually to St. Ann's Academy and St. Louis College for proficiency in Canadian history, and also a prize to St. Ann's Primary School. A framed picture of the Father of Confederation, presented by Mrs. McManus on behalf of the league to St. Louis College, was referred to by Mrs. Hughes, and a letter of acknowledgment from Rev. Brother Lawless, principal, in which he expressed his pleasure in placing before the students the ideals of these great men who had founded a nation (Continued on Page 9)

LONDON GIRL ESCAPES CANNIBALS

Like a thrilling chapter from a hair-raising adventure book is the latest exploit of the Viscountess de Sibur, who was forced to land with her husband in their tiny moth aeroplane in the midst of a cannibal tribe in Africa, but succeeded in starting the motor before being captured. The Viscountess, daughter of H. Gordon Selfridge, London merchant, and the Viscount, with whom she is shown above, had previously visited Rasafari, Abyssinian ruler, and were flying over tribal battlefields when the accident occurred. The couple gained fame a year ago when they visited Victoria on their way from the Orient.

WOMAN BLAMES ANCIENT SCARAB FOR MISFORTUNE

After Seven Years' Continued Hardship Soldier's Widow Buries Talisman

Bradley, Eng., April 16.—A scarab taken from an ancient Egyptian tomb was blamed by Mrs. John Bertram Parkes for seven years of poverty and misfortune, culminating in widowhood. So she buried the thing in the woods near her humble home here.

The scarab was inscribed with part of the sixty-fourth chapter of the Egyptian Book of the Dead, which identified it with the heart of the deceased person, and urged it not to betray him at the judgment before Osiris. It was found by her husband when he was in Egypt as a colonel in the Grenadier Guards.

UNEMPLOYED SEVEN YEARS

Shortly afterwards, he was demobilized. For a time he worked, first as a coal dealer and later as a market gardener, toy maker and firewood seller. Then for seven years he was unable to land a job of any sort.

Finally he was forced to build a two-room shack in the woods here in order to have shelter for his wife and four children. Then he died, leaving his family destitute.

Mrs. Parkes said her husband blamed all his misfortunes on the scarab. "He was too superstitious to throw it away, but he asked me to get rid of it," she explained. "He felt sure it was a curse."

When he fell sick an ironic fate sent him half a dozen offers of lucrative employment. But he was already on his death bed.

Forbid Teachers To Spend Time In Beauty Parlors

Angora, April 16.—The Turkish Minister of Education has taken a complicated way of telling school teachers of the nation to be simple.

AWARD MADE IN DEBATE SERIES

Pas-a-Pas Team of First United Church Winner

A keenly interested and animated audience of 125 young people and many visitors greeted the debating team of the Axioms and Pas-a-Pas Bible classes at the First United Y.P.S. Monday night. This marked the final debate in the senior series. The subject, "Resolved that reading is more cultural and educational than travel," was handled so skillfully by both teams that the judges, Mrs. W. Ramsell, G. A. A. Hebban and Dr. Unsworth experienced considerable difficulty in awarding the decision.

The four debaters, Misses Murie and McDougall, of the Pas-a-Pas, and the Misses Hoy and Innes of the Axioms, were highly complimented by Mrs. Ramsell and Dr. Unsworth on the excellent preparation and the ready delivery of their speeches. The Pas-a-Pas representing the affirmative, received the congratulatory of the society in winning the judges' decision, and the silver trophy.

John Taylor, the president, was in the chair for the first part of the evening's programme. The Scripture reading which was taken by Miss Olive Heritage, was followed by an inspiring devotional talk by Robt. Wallace, who took as his theme, "Covet earnestly the best gifts."

After the reading of the minutes by Miss Ina Easton, a report by the tennis committee, was given to the effect that splendid progress was being made at the courts on Caledonia and Cook Streets. A third building bee will be held on Saturday afternoon.

Those wishing to join the club are urged to do so at once as the membership list of sixty is almost complete. Several special contributions have been received and anyone wishing to help this enterprise may give the donation to Mr. Gray or any member of the committee.

During the evening, George Warnock, bass soloist, and the Misses Lea and Warnock, mandolin trio delighted their audience with several musical numbers. John Smith was the accompanist for the evening.

The president of the Y.P. council, Cecil Davies, spoke briefly about the Y.P. conference which is being held in Duncan on Good Friday. He stated that already 140 young people of Victoria and district had signified their intention of attending it.

GABY DESLYS' TOMB ROBBED

Steel Door Protecting Famous Dancer's Coffin Foils Thieves

Marselles, April 15—Vandals recently made an attempt at night to rob the tomb of Mile, Gaby Deslys, the famous dancer, who died in 1920.

The warden of the St. Pierre cemetery at Marselles discovered that the masonry surrounding the vaults containing her remains had been broken open. A hole nine feet long and two feet wide had been made in the wall of the chapel.

When the door of the chapel was opened it was obvious that an attempt had been made to raise the slab of granite covering the vaults. The huge stone had been lifted, but the desecrators had been foiled by a solid steel door protecting the dancer's coffin.

Signs of the use of the most modern house-breaking implements were visible on the surface of the steel, which is six inches in thickness, but the raiders had not had sufficient time to cut a way through.

It is possible that they were searching for jewels or were attempting in criminal fashion to gather evidence to prove or disprove the dead woman's identity, which has been the subject of recent litigation.

The latter half of the evening, welcomed a delegation from the A.Y.P.A. of Christ Church Cathedral. He also extended to the judges and artists of the evening, the thanks and appreciation of the society. Miss Olive Heritage gave an interesting outline of the Young People's opening worship period held every Sunday morning at 9:50 o'clock in the church auditorium.

The third talk on "Know Your Church" series was comprised of two short addresses, the first one given by George Gordon on Tuxis work, and the second by Miss Carol Menzies on the C.O.I.T. At the close of the evening a social half hour was spent and refreshments served by the social committee under the leadership of Miss Ethel Douglas.

On Friday, April 25, debating teams from the Tuxis and C.O.I.T. departments will contest for the silver trophy in the junior series. At the closing Y.P. banquet the presentation of medals and the senior and junior trophies will be made.

GRACEFUL EASTER HEADGEAR

New Easter hats for wear with frocks or silk suits are semi-picture size, graceful in cut and poised with rare on feminine heads, never yanked down as they have been in the past. Very new is the cornet folded crown, featured (top) in a natural bankok straw, with slightly irregular brim and a neat trim of navy blue grosgrain ribbon whose ends fold demurely over each other in front, in a flat bow. Positively Napoleonic in its assurance of chic is the latest dress hat (below), a black one made of sheer crepe brail. Its novel touch is a banding of pink linen which faces through the crown, forming a large bow which angles against the hair under the brim on the right side.

CAPITAL CITY PROPOSALS TO BE DISCUSSED

City and Chamber of Commerce Committees to Hold Joint Meeting

A joint discussion of the proposed Capital City grant scheme, under which a voluntary commission would be created for the beautification of the capital on a definite plan and with provincial government aid, will be held at the City Hall to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the City Council's special committee.

The committee, which includes Aldermen W. T. Straith, chairman, John A. Worthington, W. H. Cullin and Robert Smith, has invited the Chamber of Commerce committee, studying the proposals, and representatives of other public bodies to attend.

The plans were recently discussed in a tentative way with Reginald Hayward and James Beatty, two of the Victoria members in the Provincial Legislature, both of whom have spoken in favor of some action to bring the proposals to a head.

The holdings of the provincial government in the city amount to approximately four per cent of the total assessment, and would contribute taxes to the extent of some $89,000 this year if not tax exempt. The aim of the proposals is to secure some form of permanent assistance to aid in the beautification of the capital, similar to the plan in operation in Ottawa for many years, and for the benefit of the Province as a whole.

and a constitution worthy of their best efforts in citizenship, was read. The success of the St. Louis College choir in last year's festival under Brother Keogh, and the hope for the new school were dwelt upon, also the poster competition recently arranged for the boys. The annual national scholarship for girls is exciting considerable local interest and three of St. Ann's Academy students have entered for this year. Mrs. Hughes's report was received with satisfaction and applause.

Mrs. Service reported as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Sabir as convener of membership, the latter showing an increase of about sixty-five members in the year. In thanking Mrs. Sabin for her report, Mrs. O'Neill spoke hopefully of the time when the membership would include every eligible woman, this would come as the importance of the work became better known.

MONTHLY MEETING

In the regular business of the league for the month of April, Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. Burns were appointed hospital visitors to replace Mrs. Service and Mrs. Cockill, who had visited St. Joseph's and Vernon Villa, and had interested others in calling upon some of the men patients, to whom cigarettes were given. A gift of money was voted to St. Vincent de Paul Society, and a similar gift to St. Louis College for laboratory fund and other necessities. Mrs. Sabin reported for the very successful rummage sale in which her committee consisted of Mrs. Beneman, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. McManus and Mrs. Mazurati.

The thanks of the members were expressed to Mrs. Sabin, Mahoney, Plumb, Killoran and Hunter for the self-denial bags in use during Lent. Mrs. Kennedy spoke of the magazine, Better Films, now being published in Victoria by Mr. Flintoff, and asked members to interest themselves in this publication for the improvement of the class of pictures shown.

Mrs. Charlebois of Patricia Bay, who is leaving shortly for Saskatoon, Sask., asked that somebody be appointed to look after the Indians in the district she is just leaving. Mrs. J. L. Thompson was suggested and if she will consent to act, to be empowered to choose her own committee. Miss Hagan, government nurse for the Indians, is pleased with this co-operation and interest in her work.

LINEN SHOWER

A linen shower will shortly be held for the blab's house, other activities will be the sale of home cooking on April 26, and the card party arranged for May 7. Announcement of Rev. Father Scheele's card party on Wednesday, April 23, was made and those wishing to attend may communicate with Mrs. Couture. The boys' orchestra of St. Louis College will be in attendance during the card party.

A special reference was made in the report of the secretary to the loss sustained by the Victoria subdivision in the death of Mrs. Kellaher. A letter was ordered sent to Mrs. B. C. McCann, past national president of the Catholic Women's League, congratulating her upon the receipt of the Cross "Pro Religione" at Pontefract, England, conferred upon her by His Holiness Pope Pius XI.

Catholic Women's League—At the April meeting of the Victoria Subdivision Catholic Women's League a good deal of business was transacted, and the following new members were received: the "Misses" Ellen, Abigail, and Rabbitt, Rita Bedard, Ada Massey and Marie Dames. Miss Eustalia O'Neill president, was in the chair, and arrangements for after Easter activities were discussed.

MILLIONS of Theatregoers Demand Real Music.

Music lovers everywhere are insisting that the inspiration and beauty of real art rendered by living musicians in the theatre be restored to them.

The Music Defense League, through which the American public are voicing their vehement protest against the elimination of real music from the theatre, is growing with astounding rapidity. The League has passed the two-million mark in less than three short months of effort. Votes in defense of national culture still pour in.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

BABY WILL SIT UP UNSUPPORTED WHEN STRONG ENOUGH

Usually between four and six months babies show a determined desire to sit up. They strain and struggle, lift their heads from the bed, and grasp at any offered hand in a vain attempt to sit up. But if they are allowed to sit up, most of these small mites can't manage it but a moment. They sit up straight, then their backs begin to sag and their heads drop forward. They are still not "strong enough to sit erect." At that very moment they should be allowed to lie down.

Mrs. L. H. W. is anticipating these activities by at least a month and the picture she draws of her baby's posture is clearly one of fatigue. She says: "Does a baby grow to be humped-shouldered sitting as a baby does, tilted or leaning forward? My baby is three and one-half months old and weighs fourteen and one-half pounds. He is pretty fat. Does that tend to make him tilt forward? He cries and fights if not allowed to sit in this position. Is he too young to be sitting up at all?"

TOO YOUNG

The answer to your last question is an emphatic "Yes." He is far too young. He is quite a lot over the average weight for a baby this age. Coupling his weight with his activity, you look upon him as a "big" boy. He isn't, he is very much of an infant and is not old enough to hold either his head or his back erect.

Put him over your knee on his stomach and let him lift his head. Babies do this very early, and it is their first exercise in balancing the head. Put him on his stomach in his crib and let him hold his head erect. If he is lying on his back on the bed, grasp his hands firmly and as he struggles up, give him a helping hand to a sitting position. Let him sit for a moment and gently let him down.

DON'T PROPP BABY

The neighbors often free in their distribution of the worst possible advice, are apt at this time to suggest propping the young baby up. The young mother always follows this advice, bad as it is. She thinks such exercise helps the baby to learn to sit. So baby is put in a nest of pillows, poor dear, and sits there with his small back curved and aching, miserable and unhappy.

When baby is strong enough to sit alone he does it beautifully, with no support, at all, and his back is straight as a poker. When he begins to slump it is time for him to lie down at once.

The undernourished child may not evince a desire to sit up until many months later than this, and should not be forced. His back should be as carefully protected from strain as the young baby's.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

EVERY now and then the calamity howlers shout and wail that the boxing game on this continent is tottering to rock and ruin. Maybe it is, but that doesn't seem to prevent a whole lot of would-be managers trying to break into the "fight racket." More and more men from other businesses are becoming interested in fighting, or becoming "piece-men" or "alien backers" of fight clubs. If these fellows are so interested in the game it is only for one thing and that is they see visions of making a pile of "dough." With the present-day big games everybody is anxious to get in on the game and make some of the soft money.

That fellow Kid Berg, the little English welterweight, literally is the hottest fighter in the game today, in addition to being the most aggressive and active battler while he's in there. Berg allowed only three days to elapse after his first fight with Joe Glick before he was back in the ring defending that trick junior welterweight title of his against Jackie Phillips, welterweight champion of Canada.

Apparently the New York State Athletic Commission believes that a wrestling match by any other name would smell as sweet, or possibly even sweeter. That's the only inference to be gained after the recent action by the commission which decreed that hereafter they must be billed as wrestling "shows or exhibitions" except in certain instances when the commission intimates it will issue special permission to advertise a bout as a "match."

It was William Muldoon who concluded that the bouts were more of the exhibition than the real competitive type. Well, if there any man who ought to know it's this same Muldoon. He was in the racket long enough to learn its ins and outs.

"It's a swell machine," the salesman told me, "it will do ninety miles an hour without even breathing hard."

Before buying, however, I asked for information from a man who had owned several models of this bally-hooed device.

"Sure it will do ninety miles an hour," said he, "but you'll have to stop every couple of miles and go back and pick up the valves off the road."

This experience with auto salesman reminds us somehow of the expensive baseball machine for which Colonel Jacob Ruppert laid $100,000 on the dotted line. The Babe Ruth phenom the good Colonel, while using his buy in an exhibition run down in Dallas the other day, suffered the embarrassment of seeing the chassis go kerflop after a spin around the bases.

In the strain of turning a corner, the Bambino bent an axle. However, the Babe recovered sufficiently to start in the opening game yesterday. But the incident ought to prove to you that as a gambler in baseball machinery, the Colonel stands in nobody's shadow.

The Bambino model started to wrack last year. A couple of bolts fell out of the rear along in mid-season. Mechanics having been around with the job and finally the Bambino was put back into service.

This year everything was going along in great style. The Yankees were setting a new record for attendance at exhibition games in the south—something like 60,000 people having come to see Ruth play right field and smack a few over the wall. Then, without Ruth, the exhibition series was just another pain in the neck.

The Yankee management, realizing that only by Babe's appearance in exhibition games could some of the $200,000 a year salary be taken care of, finally won their contention that Babe should appear in barnstorming games after the Bambino's injury, the Yankee gate fell away badly.

One of Jack Sharkey's sparring partners, Rocky Stone, has sued the Boston big boy for $20,000 charging excessive and unnecessary abuse. He will have a hard time proving Jack Sharkey ever abused anybody.

Unless he bases his case on the excessive and unnecessary words to which Mr. Sharkey is addicted.

According to the physicians, Babe Ruth is suffering a disruption at the bifurcation of the gastrocnemius. Say it ain't so, doc!

Oullen Cain, of the National League Service Bureau, says the Boston Braves were the most improved team he saw in Florida. To which we can only reply that we hope the rumor is not exaggerated.

Shuffling Phil Collins of the Philadelphia National League club plans to become a butcher when he quits baseball. He's just playing for a steak.

With the flagpole parades and other opening day ceremonies out of the way for another year, major league baseball players now are ready to settle down to the serious business of trying to keep runners parading across the plate during the next 153 games of the season. BELANGER IS GIVEN TOUGH BOUT BY LEE

Canadian Flyweight Hard Pressed to Hold Off Great Comeback of Mobile Boy
Jackie Johnston Beats Prairie Fighter; Steve Trojak in "No Contest"

Winnipeg, April 16.—Canny Frenchy Belanger, of Toronto, ace of Canadian flyweights yesterday evening rapped out a ten-round decision over Quinn Lee, straight-hitting Mobile, Ala., Southern States champion, in the feature bout of a card at the amphitheatre.

Buttered when he was caught along the ropes, and out-paced in the open, Lee was hopelessly behind in points before he started to make an impression. He began a whirlwind offensive in the eighth and maintained it through the ninth and tenth.

Frenchy had won every one of the first seven rounds. He had rapped his southern foe with straight lefts and right hooks until the customers were looking for a knockout. Then Lee quite suddenly stopped taking and started to give. He fired into the champion at the bell in the eighth stanza, opened a wide gash above Belanger's right eye and did the same thing to the left before the round ended.

In the ninth, the United States fighter continued the pressure. Blood streaming down his face, Frenchy battled in vain to keep off the tigerish little fighting man from Mobile. A cut lip that yielded more gore appeared under Quinn's flying fists and he carried the ninth round as easily as he had the eighth.

The tenth was even. Belanger waded in at the bell and met Lee half way. They slugged it out in mid-ring and Lee absorbed a dozen or more cutting clouts that stood him back on his heels. His comeback flurry earned Belanger the unanimous vote of the referee and judges.

Jackie Johnston, Toronto bantam, smashed out an eight-round decision over courageous Vic Skeriton, of Regina, in the semi-final. Skeriton presented a dozen or more cutting clouts that stood him back on his heels. His comeback flurry earned Belanger the unanimous vote of the referee and judges.

Steve Trojak, former Winnipeg rugby star, pounded John Blight, an Indian heavyweight, all over the ring for four rounds and the fight was officially called "no contest." Trojak did all the fighting that was done. His purses will be held up.

BALL LEAGUE WILL IMPORT CRACK TEAMS

Classy Outside Aggregations to Be Brought Here For Exhibition Games

Local All-star Nine Will Be Selected; League Schedule Is Announced

Plans to bring some of the finest teams in the Pacific Northwest to Victoria this season for exhibition games, were made by the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League at a meeting held yesterday evening at the Y.M.C.A. After much discussion it was decided that the five teams in the league would each meet outside clubs in turn. The executive also discussed the possibility of picking an all-star team and it was decided to do this, after the season was well under way, the club to perform in exhibition contests. Among the clubs it is hoped to bring to Victoria this summer are: Bellingham Elks, Asahi, Vancouver Japanese club, and the Tacoma Kittens. The latter team played a couple of games here last season and proved a classy aggregation of ball players. During the meeting the question of the permission granted by the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association to strengthen their club with four players from other teams was discussed and all managers voiced the opinion that this privilege should be taken advantage of.

Gus Sonnenberg Given Hard Bout By Dr. Sarpolis

Seattle, April 16.—Gus Sonnenberg, popularly recognized as the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, successfully defended his title with a one-fall victory over Dr. Karl Sarpolis of Cleveland in an eight-round match here yesterday evening. Sonnenberg scored the only fall in the fifth round. It was the first time the two heavyweights had ever met, and Sarpolis gave Sonnenberg one of the stiffest battles of his career. The champion gained victory with a surprise fall. Sarpolis clamped his pet flying scissorhold on Sonnenberg and fell back on his back pulling the champion on top of him. Although held between Sarpolis' legs, Sonnenberg rolled Sarpolis' head on to his shoulders and held him there just long enough to score a fall.

Investigation Promises An Upheaval In Coast Boxing

Commissioners to Place Blame for Carnera Fracas
Dates Set for Second Annual Caliente Open

San Francisco, April 16.—An upheaval in Pacific Coast boxing circles is expected before Boxing Commissioner Charles F. Traung completes his investigation into the abruptly-terminated Primo Carnera-Leon Chevalier fight in Oakland Monday night.

Leading witnesses at the first hearing conducted by Traung at the San Francisco offices of the state athletic commission yesterday were: Bob Perry, who started it all when he tossed a towel into the ring in the sixth round; Chevalier, Mrs. Chevalier, Bab Lager, a second; Referee Toby Irwin and Tim McGrath, the negro heavyweight's manager.

Traung prepared to hold another meeting to-day. Commissioners Traung and James Woods said they were satisfied Carnera and Chevalier were trying to make a "fight of it." They said they would find out if there was "influence" at work if it took all summer.

Perry told the commissioners he threw a towel into the ring despite the fact he had no authority to do so. Those who kept their ticket stubs would be admitted free.

Because of the Oakland fiasco, Promoter Nate Drumman of Seattle has cancelled Carnera's engagement there. The Livemore Rodeo Association, however, yesterday evening still was anxious to obtain the Italian for a bout.

Chevalier told Commissioner Traung that Perry had threatened him for several rounds after the opening frame, urging him to take "a dive," which in the parlance of the ring means to fake a knockout. Chevalier's wife also testified that her husband had been told some time before the fight that he wasn't going to win. It appears that Chevalier did not gather the significance of the statement and rebuffed that he was "sure going to try hard."

Chevalier reiterated statements he made Monday night after the fight that one of his seconds (whom he pointed out as Perry) had rubbed something over his eyes that partly blinded him for a while. Perry denied this statement as well as Chevalier's declarations that he (Perry) had told him to "take a dive."

The investigation centred around the activities of the seconds in Chevalier's corner, but at no time was aspersions cast on the two fighters. Newspapermen were unanimous in the opinion that the two big fellows were doing their best, although Carnera's clumsy efforts and ineffectual punching for a man his size brought some individual criticism.

Coast Basketball Champions Reach Western Finals

Adanacs Outclass Saskatoon Team And Meet Toilers

New Westminster Quintette Flashes Brilliant Form to Defeat Saskatchewan Champions 44-24 for Total Count in Series of 80-45; Dr. Dick Butler and Max Shiles Lead Coast Scorers; Toilers Rated Most Powerful Manitoba Team Since They Held Title Three Years Ago; Finals at Winnipeg Thursday and Saturday.

Canadian Press

Saskatoon, April 16.—Once again British Columbia and Manitoba are to clash in a joust for the Western Canadian basketball crown. New Westminster Adanacs, who eliminated Winnipeg Toilers in the final last year at the coast, face the same task this year on the home floor of the five that has taken the Manitoba title year after year.

The Adanacs won their way into the last western stage, last year's game series at Winnipeg Thursday and Saturday, by defeating Varsity Guards of Saskatoon yesterday evening 44 to 24. The score for the two-game series was 80-45 in the aggregate. Previous to downing the Saskatchewan champs, Adanacs had copped the British Columbia title and then swept through Lethbridge Aces, best in Alberta.

Speeding to even a loftier level than in the opened at Saskatoon, when they won by 35-20, the Adanacs ranked superior to the Grads yesterday evening in every department. Even the substitute string, run into the game during the latter stages, proved as effective as the regulars. Yet the Saskatoonians battled hard, bidding for baskets until the final gong.

BUTLER AND SHILES LEAD
Dr. Dick Butler, rangy dentist from the coast, contributed to the B.C. total an even ten points, mostly by virtue of uncanny long shots from far down the floor. Max Shiles stormed through the last half and gathered a scoring aggregate that equaled Butler's. "Chick" Hood with nine points and flashy Wally Mayers with seven, accounted for most of the remaining points.

Eye dead on the basket in the final half, Ellis McMillan of the Grads gathered eight points, his total for the game and his team's best individual score. But Harry Pullen, "Mac" MacKwan and Doc Countryman contributed five points apiece. As in the first game of the series, Orval Grattan at guard gave a spectacular display against overwhelming ability.

Ready for the fray, the Toilers worked out today at Winnipeg and were rated by their coach as in top form. The Manitobans, who entered the final by defeating Port William, West Ontario champs, are credited with being the most powerful Toiler quintette since the Canadian title was last held in Manitoba three years ago.

British Lacrosse Team Adds Another Win to Its Credit
Syracuse, N.Y., April 16.—Defeating the Syracuse University lacrosse team 11-1, yesterday, the Cambridge, Oxford invaders from England practically assured the return of the Flannery Cup to Great Britain. The British twelve outclassed Syracuse as they won their eighth game in ten starts on United States soil and ran their scoring total to seventy-five points, against twenty-five for the defending team. Varied Programme At Y.M.C.A. This Summer

Swimming, Tennis, Softball, Track and Field and Other Sports Included; Prospects Bright in All Divisions; Leagues and Tournaments Planned.

Son of Famous Jockey to Ride At N.Y. Meeting
New York, April 16.—Pat Donoghue, son of the famous jockey Steve, will ride at the United Hunt Club's meeting opening at Aqueduct to-morrow. Young Donoghue came here recently to ride for Victor Emanuel's Dorwood stable.

With the winter games drawing to a close the Y.M.C.A. physical department, under Archie McKinnon, is preparing an ambitious summer programme that will feature tennis, softball, swimming, track and field and other sports to a greater extent than any season for several years. This summer, since there will be no Y.M.C.A. camp, the staff members will be able to devote a greater amount of time to organized sports than formerly, and plan to organize several leagues among the association teams.

In swimming, the department plans to stage, in addition to the regular galas, a special campaign to develop youngsters into better swimmers, and to coach them in life-saving and other branches of the aquatic sport. A series of courses will be drawn up for different proficiency badges, while the life-saving classes will be conducted in order to give those who can already swim a chance to win the Royal Life-saving Society's medals and certificates. Although this phase of the swimming club has not been entirely neglected in previous years, it will be developed more intensively during the coming months. It should, moreover, add incentive to the game later in the year when the members no longer have the Pacific Northwest championship gala to look forward to.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE
In the softball section, a special house league will be formed, and will include teams from the swimming club, young men's division and the "Y" men's club. A schedule of two or three games for each squad will be drawn up and further arrangements will be made later.

TRACK PROSPECTS BRIGHT
Of major importance will be the track and field work this year. The association has at present one of the most promising groups it has had in this section for some time, and should be able to bring out several good men in the coming months. The boys are all anxious to get into competition. By the time the provincial championships and Caledonia games come around they will doubtless be able to give good accounts of themselves.

MAINLAND BIKE RACERS COMING

Jim Davies and Stan Jackson Will Race in Good Friday Classic Here

With Jim Davies and Stan Jackson, crack Vancouver bike racers, entered for the ten-mile race around Beacon Hill, Victoria's pedal-pushers will have plenty of competition in the Good Friday event this year.

Davies is at present considered the fastest man in the game in B.C. and has many victories to his credit, both on Vancouver and Victoria tracks. Jackson, formerly a Victoria rider, now staying on the mainland, is also counted a strong contestant, and will no doubt be in the front line in most events.

Last year's time for the course was 30 mins. 4-3-5 secs., while the fastest time for the distance was made by Bill "Torchy" Feden of Victoria, 25 mins. 45 secs. Feden is now riding in the professional ranks in the east.

Besides the main event, a one-mile and two-mile race will be held for competitors under fourteen and sixteen, respectively. Last year's time in the under-fourteen event was 2 mins. 45-4-3 secs. while the under-sixteen event was 5 mins. 34-1-10 secs. Both events will be carried out on a handicap basis.

Fighter Takes One Look Over Crowd and Quits

St. Louis, April 16.—Jack de Mave, New York heavyweight, billed to meet Otto von Porst, of Norway, in the feature bout of a card here yesterday evening, "walked out" after taking a look at the slim crowd in the Coliseum and refused to fight. Von Porst was in the ring at the time. Preliminary bouts had already been fought before the estimated attendance of 1,000. Seneca C. Taylor, member of the State Athletic Commission, declared De Mave would be suspended, probably for a year.

ANOTHER SELECTION

To the Sports Editor.—My selection of a team to play the Glasgow Rangers would be: Shrimpton, Marjolin, Glancy, Boyd, Crowe, McBay, Taylor, Lally, Peers, Cameron and Mulcahy. It would be a good idea if the L.F.A. picked a couple of teams possible and probable, and played one or two games, the proceeds of these games to go to charity.

SOCCER PAIR

THE SOCCER SITUATION

To the Sports Editor.—Please pardon us for asking you to publish in your columns a letter, the like of which has always appeared in the local press to our knowledge at least annually—the last five years.

The purpose is to point out once again the fact that Victoria has lost a great opportunity of putting itself on the soccer map by not entering one strong team in the Connaught Cup Competition.

The suggestion was made a few weeks ago, and two gentlemen of the Victoria Soccer Association, or coaches for the team. The reply they received was a notice in your paper that our local teams had decided to make a big inter-championship-of-Canada individually.

Can you by any stretch of the imagination see any one Victoria club getting anywhere against outside

RED TO WIN

GEORGE SIMPSON
THE NOTED AMERICAN SPRINTERS WHO BEAT JOHNNY FITZPATRICK OF THE HAMILTON O.C. AT THE CANADIAN WOOD TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS AND THE RAILROADS WANT TO KNOW DID GEORGE'S RED TOGS REALLY BEAT JOHNNY

When the second annual indoor track championship was held in Toronto last February, it attracted some very popular material from Canada and the States. Among the United States celebrities was George Simpson, popular and well-known by Canadian sports fans. After the judges had awarded the decision to George over Johnny Fitzpatrick, the Hamilton Olympic Club sprinter, some wise cracks started saying that they thought it was a tie. Did it ever occur to you that the color red travels faster to the eye than blue or brown?

This fact has been proved by science and some athletes can capitalize on this fact. If two men were crossing a finishing tape in a dead heat it is more than likely the man wearing red togs would get the decision over a man wearing a set of white or grey togs. This has been found to be true in judging sprinting races. No one disputes George Simpson's ability on the decision, but George wore red on this particular evening, and this was later discussed among the hard-boiled track fans.

Saint John "Y" Wins Hoop Series

Saint John, N.B., April 16.—Saint John Y Grads won the right to meet the champions of the upper provinces in the Eastern-Canada intermediate basketball final when they defeated Sydney Y.M.C.A. yesterday evening 38-33. Thus capturing the maritime title in their class on a total score of 85-60.

competition? Have we one single team that can compare with some on the mainland, not to mention Winnipeg and points further east? For a reply to this, tell us what our best have done this year in the Province Cup competition.

But, then, tell us how a representative Victoria team fared against the visiting Englishmen, who all agreed that we gave them the most sporting game of their Canadian tour, against the Scots who had to extend themselves to their limit to beat us, and against the Welshmen, who were certainly lucky to get away with a victory.

These showings have led the majority of fans to hope year after year that we might put a team into the field, capable of going a long way in the Dominion series, even perhaps one year to emulate the good example set by Nanaimo.

Who is responsible that this hope has never yet been fulfilled? The players? Certainly not, for no players, no matter how good, can have a chance of being included in such a team. In this city, unfortunately, the players have little or no say in the management of their own game; they are begged, persuaded, and coaxed into signing on for a club, and they soon realize that they practically belong to the man who runs that team.

This financial scramble gives us the answer to our query as to why they cannot co-operate to put one good Victoria team in the field for the Dominion championship. If this is not so, we would like the managers of our six senior teams to open up your columns, and at the same time to tell the public why they do not choose to give what for years they have been asked to give.

Finally, we wish the public to fully appreciate that if the standard of soccer improves in Victoria it is to the credit of these six men who alone have the power to vote on any question of policy in the government of the game, and who alone carry out all decisions. If on the other hand, all are in a mad scramble for players, and are looking for means to finance their clubs.

Meanwhile let us be thankful that when visiting teams from the Old Country come, all arrangements are made by the Dominion F.A. so that the Rangers will play, not against Squemalt, Westa, City, or any other club, but against a team representing Greater Victoria.

HOPE FADES FOR FINDING OF CANOEISTS

But Provincial Police Continue Search For Vancouverites in Howe Sound

Vancouver, April 16.—Although refusing to abandon all hope, provincial police hold out little prospect for the finding of three Vancouver youths, Charles Westman, eighteen; Cedric Morrison, seventeen; and George Smith, twenty-one, who left Spanish Banks on Sunday morning in a canoe for Howe Sound.

Following an unconfirmed report that an empty green canoe had been seen in Howe Sound at 5 p.m. Sunday, provincial police announce they are endeavoring to get in touch with the source of the information. In the meantime the police launch left for Howe Sound this morning to continue the search.

After carefully combing the waters of the Gulf of Georgia and conducting a careful scrutiny of the shore line, not a trace of the missing canoe or its paddles was found yesterday.

Factory-fresh and Fragrant

"A man buys a handy pocket pack of Marguerites. He smokes some—gives some away—then when the pack is empty—it goes overboard! The handy pack keeps cigars factory-fresh and fragrant—and when it's empty it's thrown away. It's a good reminder, too, because a man always knows that if he has no pack in his pocket—he has no cigars!"

Accused Cook of Poisoning Sailor Petrosky But Doctors Said "Acute Appendicitis"

THE RING game occasionally has the defeated manager who comes to the front to insist that his boy was drugged, doped, or poisoned by the "ace-in-the-hole" boys. But here's a real poisoning story—previous to a fight—which brought out the riot squads before it subsided.

Back in the days when Jimmy Clabby was in his prime among the middleweights, he was matched with Sailor Ed Petrosky—another tough tar—for twenty rounds at Los Angeles. "Uncle Tom" McCarey and Al Greenwald promoted the show, with Harry Burns as matchmaker.

Petrosky was taken to Los Angeles by "Moore" Tausig, who introduced boxing in Japan, and who still is active in fight handling in California. He had Charlie McCus hire a cottage and a cook for Petrosky's use.

He was a good cook, handy around a fight camp. But there was one drawback—he came from Gary, Ind., where Clabby had made headquarters for some time. The boys worked hard to condition for those long fights. And they tried to dope all the angles. "Moore" kept his eye on the cook; made the food purchases himself.

ONE NIGHT Tausig was aroused by groans. He found Petrosky writhing in agony. "I feel like I'm poisoned," the sailor moaned. "Moore" and his crew pulled the cook from his bed; accused him of poisoning Petrosky. The cook denied this. They locked him in his room, and phoned McCarey.

McCarey aroused McCus, who secured samples of the food and sent them out for analysis. Meantime the cook escaped through a window—and Moore was sure his suspicions were correct.

The cook ran to McCarey's home. And while detectives were seeking the butcher who supplied Petrosky's meat, McCarey, seeing the cook, telephoned police. The police, believing the cook might be desperate, surrounded the house, to wait him out rather than start a gun-battle that might cause injury to neighbors.

Some time later, McCarey, the cook, and McCus left the house together. The police arrested the cook for poisoning Petrosky.

"Listen, boys," said McCarey. "Don't be foolish. He didn't poison Petrosky. The doctors just telephoned me that Petrosky has acute appendicitis. He's to be operated upon as soon as possible."

Seven Passenger Liners Due In Next Four Days

Empress of Canada, C.P.R. Flagship, Will Sail For Orient To-morrow Afternoon

Two President Liners, Two Japanese Ships and California Steamer Also Due

Commencing to-morrow the outer docks will be busy until Sunday with several large deep-sea passenger liners in port, inbound and outbound. During the four-day period seven passenger ships will enter and clear, keeping immigration and customs officials and longshoremen on the jump from morning until night.

To-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada is expected here from Vancouver on her way to Honolulu, Japan, China and the Philippine Islands. She will be the first ship of the Empress fleet to leave Vancouver at 11 o'clock in the morning instead of at noon. This time will bring her to Victoria earlier in the afternoon and so permit her to clear for Honolulu about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Capt. A. J. Bailey, R.N.R., will take out the Empress to-morrow, replacing Capt. S. Robinson, who is to go on the new Empress of Japan.

Friday night will see the American Mail liner President McKinley in port from the Philippine Islands, China and Japan. She will berth at the Rithet pier about 9 o'clock. For Victoria the McKinley has 300 tons of general cargo and about fifty passengers.

On Saturday afternoon two trans-Pacific liners will be here outbound from Seattle to the Far East. They will be the American Mail liner President Jackson and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru. Both arrive from Seattle about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Japanese liner will clear for sea about 5 o'clock, while the President will be here until 6 o'clock. Both ships will take out fair passenger lists and capacity cargoes.

The Ruth Alexander will return here on Sunday morning for two hours to sail for California ports. Later in the day the O.S.K. liner Arabia Maru is expected from the Orient with one of the largest passenger lists to be brought across the Pacific for some time by a Japanese liner. There are 123 passengers in both classes aboard the Arabia.

The launch ceremony of the new steamship Vancouver at Hamburg, Germany, of the new 7,000-ton turbine freight and passenger steamer Vancouver of the Hamburg-America Line, which will operate from Hamburg to Vancouver through the Panama Canal. The launching ceremony was featured by addresses which gave credit to Vancouver for its rise among the important shipping ports of the world. Mrs. L. D. Wilgess, wife of the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Hamburg, christened the new vessel, and Mr. Wilgess delivered the christening address. The British Consul-General in Hamburg, Francis A. Oliver, C.B.E., and many high officials, were also present. A cable expressing his greetings and good wishes was received from Hon. James Macdonald, Minister of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa.

The Vancouver is a sister ship of the Tacoma which was launched early in February. In addition to the large freight and refrigerating rooms, the Vancouver will have accommodation for twenty-four passengers in the cabin class and the same number in the third class. Both ships will be engaged in the Hamburg-America Line's Pacific Coast-European service, operating via the Panama Canal. They will be part of the company's fleet of new vessels bearing the names of West Coast cities, the motorships San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland and Oakland, and the steamers Tacoma and Vancouver.

In his address, Mr. Wilgess, Canadian trade commissioner, said in part: "This beautiful ship will bear the name Vancouver. This is a great and highly useful compliment to the city of Vancouver. It is also a recognition on the part of the Hamburg-America Line of the important position which Vancouver has acquired among world ports in recent years."

"The city of Vancouver was founded forty-four years ago. Its development as a world port has been remarkable. The shipping traffic of the harbor has been a fourfold increase in the last ten years. In 1920, 20,000 vessels with a total tonnage of 12,000,000 net tons arrived at the port, and included in these figures were 1,900 ocean-going vessels of a total of 4,500,000 tons."

Coast guard cutters and wrecking outfits were searching yesterday for a fishing schooner that broke away Monday night from the steamer Rhine Maru, which has been engaged in salvaging the Japanese freighter Rhine Maru, which went ashore on the rocks at Point St. March 28. The schooner is ten feet wide and forty-five feet long. Coast guards said, and is a menace to navigation. It was last seen off the coast of Carmel.

Two new steamers are now on their way to Victoria from Scotland and will arrive here within twelve days of each other, the first towards the end of this month and the second early in May. They are the Princess Elizabeth and Princess Joan of the C.P.R. The Princess Joan sailed yesterday from Glasgow for Victoria, the local office of the B.C. Coast Service has been advised by cablegram.

Capt. C. C. Sainty has charge of the Elizabeth and Capt. W. Thompson is on the bridge of the Joan. Both ships are specially built for the night service between Victoria and Vancouver, and will enter this route shortly after arriving here.

San Francisco, April 16.—Hayes was done to smaller vessels about 7 o'clock yesterday evening by the steamer Mundeta, a United States freighter, as she was leaving port from No. 3 dock. The engine room is reported to have mistaken a full speed ahead signal for an astern signal, and the vessel, traveling astern at the time, continued thus for the distance of about a city block.

Struck by the freighter's propeller, a fish-collecting boat was sunk, and the tugboat A. and L. was badly damaged, its pilot house being completely smashed.

Damage was done also to the tug Salmon King, Salmon Chief, Wanderer and St. Clair No. 3, and a crowd of lumber was carried away from alongside the freighter Loimar at No. 2 dock.

The Mundeta's rudder was broken and she was obliged to tie up again.

their return south Mr. and Mrs. White-lock will leave for Los Angeles, where they will board the Canadian liner Franconia and proceed with her through the Panama Canal to New York. The Franconia is now on her way around the world, and is at present in Japan. She is due at Los Angeles on May 13.

San Francisco, April 16.—For the first time in nearly eight years the liner Maruma, in command of Captain J. P. Spring-Brown, arrived here yesterday from Australia and New Zealand with 223 passengers and a capacity cargo. The Maruma on this voyage substituted for the Makura, which broke a crankshaft shortly after leaving Sydney and was forced to put back to port. The Maruma was last seen on May 29, 1922, at which time Captain L. C. Worral, now retired, was her commander. She was a coal

Prince Rupert To Ship First Grain of Year

Prince Rupert, April 16.—This port will make its first grain shipment of the season next week when the Swedish steamship Rosen of the Transatlantic Steamship Company Limited, of Gothenburg berths for a full cargo for the Continent, under charter to the wheat pool. The Rosen arrived in San Francisco April 11 from Adelaide. She has been operating in the Australian service of the General Steamship Corporation.

The Rosen and the Bullaren, of the same fleet, arrived on this coast in the same position, and it was decided to charter the former vessel for a voyage from British Columbia to the Continent. The Bullaren brought a full cargo from Newcastle-on-Tyne to San Francisco. She is expected in Seattle April 19 or 20 to load for Australia.

San Francisco, April 16.—Hayes was done to smaller vessels about 7 o'clock yesterday evening by the steamer Mundeta, a United States freighter, as she was leaving port from No. 3 dock. The engine room is reported to have mistaken a full speed ahead signal for an astern signal, and the vessel, traveling astern at the time, continued thus for the distance of about a city block.

Struck by the freighter's propeller, a fish-collecting boat was sunk, and the tugboat A. and L. was badly damaged, its pilot house being completely smashed.

Damage was done also to the tug Salmon King, Salmon Chief, Wanderer and St. Clair No. 3, and a crowd of lumber was carried away from alongside the freighter Loimar at No. 2 dock.

The Mundeta's rudder was broken and she was obliged to tie up again.

STOBIE CREDITORS
REJECT PROPOSAL
FOR REORGANIZATION

Peterboro, April 16.—Creditors of the Stobie, Forling and Company stock brokerage firm, residing in Lindsay, Peterboro and Oshawa, at a special meeting held in Lindsay yesterday, voted against a proposal to reorganize and form a new company.

Hundreds of creditors in this district were in attendance, representing interests in the company amounting to several hundred thousand dollars.
Malcolm Stobie, of Toronto, president of the firm, addressed the creditors.
After a lengthy discussion the following resolution was adopted by the meeting:

"Having considered the proposal for reorganization of the company and having been addressed by Mr. Stobie, we declare that in our opinion it would be in the best interest of the creditors to withhold decision on the proposal and to request the inspectors of the estate to obtain the opinion of G. T. Clarkson or some other competent authority as to the advisability of accepting or rejecting such a proposal."

MORE BEER FACILITIES?
TO WHAT EXTENT?

of even twenty-five or thirty years ago, that, positively, therefore, beer drinking creates an appetite which soon calls for stronger liquors (one reason why, in their cunning, the "trade" presses for its sale and use), and, negatively, is of absolutely no benefit. These conclusions cannot be successfully disputed, and no serious attempts are any longer made, even by the brewers, to dispute them.

Besides, in particular, many B.C. beer parlors already opened have most, if not all, the objectionable features of the old bar-room system, with its "speaking" practice, as well as some, perhaps even more objectionable, which are developing alarmingly, as they may have been intended to develop, much boozing by our women and young people. "Drink shops can no more be run without boys than a sawmill without logs." One would think they could be run without coralling and consuming our girls!

There are in the main two classes always that want greater facilities for liquor sale: those who profit financially

by it, and those who have learned to like beer or for some reason want to drink it. Is it any use to appeal to the former against the latter proposal?
Many think not. But surely there are some among them to whom we may happily say, "Have a heart!" In the second class there must be very many who have fine human sympathies, and are, with regard to this special drink, to which they want easier access, not callous but only thoughtless or misled.

These I beg, in the name of our women and children, yes, and of our business men, and all kinds of men—to defend, and experience the wonderful satisfaction and strength given through denying self for others.

I appeal chiefly to the voters (should the issue come to a vote), and most of all to the wives, mothers, and sisters who have the franchise privilege, to do their utmost, especially on polling day, to defeat a selfish and crude scheme already working irreparable injury to many, and one that cannot be different in its effects if adopted in Victoria. Do not, on any account, allow yourselves to be hoodwinked by the worn-out, but still most specious, arguments for more chances to drink beer.

Saanich Choirs Earn Praise of Judges At School Competition

Cloverdale School Wins Senior and Intermediate Honors at Lake Hill Tests; Craigflower Awarded Junior Honors; Saanichton Test To-night.

"We experienced great pleasure in hearing these Saanich choirs. We feel there is no reason why the schools of Saanich should not produce some excellent singing, with choirs able to take their places with communities having a great deal more experience," said W. C. Fyfe, joint adjudicator with Alfred Gurney, A.R.C.O., at the Saanich musical competitions, at the conclusion of the tests held at the Lake Hill Community Centre yesterday afternoon and evening.

Speaking on behalf of himself and Mr. Gurney, Mr. Fyfe continued: "We feel that a great deal of benefit can be gained from such competitions as these in progress in Saanich. Singing festivals of this type can become valuable feeders to the larger Victoria Musical Festival."

"We were particularly well pleased with the phrasing by the different choirs. There appeared to be trouble in all the schools with the letter 'R,' the tongue being raised to the roof of the mouth instead of being kept flat." Mr. Fyfe pointed out that this tendency obstructed clarity. He also stated that the intonation of a few of the choirs suffered, particularly when sounding the open vowel, "Ah," the tone being a little hard and forced.

Cloverdale School choirs yesterday evening won both senior and intermediate honors. Competing choirs from Tillicum School offered keen contests, the senior award going to Cloverdale by the narrow margin of four marks.

The adjudicators awarded points as follows: Intermediate test, Cloverdale, conducted by P. C. Routley, 170 marks; Tillicum, conducted by G. Love, 158 marks.

Senior test, Cloverdale, conducted by A. Gullies, 167; Tillicum, conducted by G. Love, 163.

Mrs. Ruby Moore accompanied the Cloverdale choirs, while Miss Huddleston accompanied the Tillicum singers.

Trustee H. L. Briggs occupied the chair. A capacity audience of children enjoyed the competition.

The intermediate choirs represented grades three, four and five and rendered two test pieces: "Where The Pools Are Bright and Deep," by Lloyd and Holst's "Carn Song."

The senior choirs were drafted from grades six, seven and eight, and rendered Purcell's "Nymphs and Shepherds" and Schubert's "Spring's Return."

In addition to the competitions the evening's programme included piano and vocal numbers by Robert Taylor, songs by Miss Carol Menzies, C. Snoddy and C. Blegg; piano selections by tiny Doreen Mills, and a duet by Jean Routley and Joan Barker.

JUNIOR HONORS
The junior competition held yesterday afternoon was won by Craigflower School with 165 points. This class was confined to the three, four and five-room schools, the well-trained winners, led by Miss Foster, being the smallest choir in the competitions.

McKenzie Avenue School, conducted by D. Parfitt, came second, with 163 points. Royal Oak, conducted by J. H. Harman, took third place with 153 points, and the choir from Cedar Hill School, led by Miss Chandler, was fourth with 148 marks.

The competition numbers were Maria Shaw's "Cuckoo," and Holst's "Carn Song."

J. M. Paterson, municipal inspector of schools, was chairman at the afternoon contest.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO-NIGHT
This evening, at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, the junior choirs of three rural schools will compete, choirs being in attendance from Gordon Head, West Saanich and Saanichton. Trustee W. P. Fyfe is expected to take the chair.

The organization of the contests was arranged by a committee of trustees and teachers, including G. Love, P. C. Routley, C. O'grad, and A. Gullies, with Municipal Inspector Paterson and Trustees Jeune and Briggs. The competitions were arranged subsequent to the decision of the Saanich School Board not to allow Saanich school choirs to compete in the Victoria Musical Festival.

Notable features of the competitions yesterday were the discipline of the children and the good sportsmanship with which they received announcement of the awards by the adjudicators. Rounds of applause were accorded the winners by the defeated choirs, while the children were trained to smartly take their places on the platform when called, and to stand quietly at attention after singing, until they were dismissed by the judges.

EXPANSION DESIRED IN LOCAL "Y"

Increase in Membership and Development of More Varied
Programmes Urged

Senior Men's Division Hears
Advice of National Council
Secretary

Outlining a programme of expansion, not only for the Y.M.C.A. but also for the individual members of the association, E. D. Otter, associate general secretary of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A., addressed the senior division of the local body at its post season "gym-boree" yesterday evening.

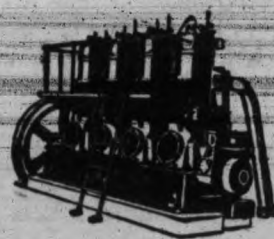

The address featured an interesting programme which included musical selections by the Cliff Club Orchestra under C. T. Nelson, vocal solos by B. Morrison, dancing exhibitions by the pupils of Miss Violet Powles, acquaintance stunts, prize presentations and a sing song. Virtually all groups in the men's division were represented at the gathering.

Opening his address, Mr. Otter pointed out the necessity of working on a higher plane to gain the greatest good from the Y.M.C.A. Such a programme would lead to expansion, he stated, saying that it would not only develop many-sided interests in the Y.M.C.A. boys, but would also increase the membership and thereby give the association a greater capital and numerical strength.

OBJECTIVES OF ASSOCIATION
He outlined the objectives of the association, showing that one of its chief aims was to develop the resources of the boys and young men and to direct their activities along the right channels. He noted that undesirable characters could be moulded to a great extent by sympathetic study and assistance and added that the Y.M.C.A. was doing its part in this work.

Vocational adjustment was one of the aims of the association gaining particular attention at the present time, Mr. Otter continued. In this field the educational boards were playing a very useful part, he said.

But the character building influence of the organization depended to a

Yale Hoists and Trucks

For practically every job of lifting and moving material—raw, in process or completed—there's a Yale Unit that will do the work quickly, easily and safely. There are many Yale Hoists both hand and electric powered, Yale overhead trolleys carry big loads quietly and easily, and Yale Electric Trucks and Trailers are quick to transfer material. Yale margins of safety are unusual, and Yale controls are simple, safe and easy to operate. Let us study your material moving problems—in many cases our engineers have made real savings with Yale equipment.

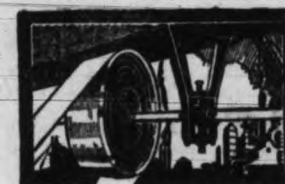

Automotive Supplies

In our Automotive Departments we carry large and varied stocks of supplies, replacement parts and garage equipment. Garages, Repair Shops and owners of Bus and Truck fleets are assured of an excellent service in parts and supplies, such as Spark Plugs, Chains, Fire Extinguishers, Wrench Sets, Brake Linings, Pistons, Rings, Pins and Bearings, Ignition and Battery Cable, Gaskets, Carburetors, Alemite Fittings, etc., as well as complete equipment for repairs and maintenance, including Cranes, Tire Changers, Presses, Spraying Outfits, Hoists, Test Stands, Air Compressors, etc.

Norton Grinding Wheels

For quickly removing metal, for cutting off, for producing a high finish on any material, for any service where grinding wheels can be used, you will find a Norton Wheel that will cut quicker, or produce a higher finish, or turn out more pieces at a lower cost. Norton Wheels are carried in stock at all branches and at your service are men who have made a study of removing metal by grinding. They will tell you the right wheel to produce the most work at the lowest cost.

Transmission Equipment

To ensure the steady and economical flow of power from drive to machine, proper shafting, hangers, bearings, pulleys and belts are essential, and here you will find Graton & Knight Leather and Dick's Balata Belting, Fairbanks Wood Pulleys, Barry Steel Split Pulleys, Hyatt Roller Bearings, as well as the numerous appliances necessary for the transmission of power.

Behold the stranger!

A STRANGER moves to your neighborhood. You observe him tolerantly, but with no immediate display of interest. You are an established resident, getting along very nicely before he came.

But you do not avoid him. For reasons not entirely unselfish you wait for him to reveal himself. Possibly he may add something to your social and business life. Possibly he will take a highly respected place in the community. He may even become one of your intimates. It is up to him.

So you note his manners, talk with him, and form an opinion. If he comes up to your requirements, you accept him, and often he proves a welcome addition to your group of friends.

It is with exactly the same attitude that the intelligent newspaper reader regards the advertisements of products new to him. These strangers may add something to his civilized enjoyment. They may contribute to his comfort, safety—even his success. In many ways they may prove valuable. Certainly it is wise to give them careful consideration.

Read the advertisements in the daily newspapers. They may be the means of introducing you to products that will take important places in your life. And every day they will give you information that enables you to buy intelligently and make your money go farther.

greatest extent upon the actual work of the members in their self-governing bodies. It was the will to do the right thing that was responsible for the success with which the different groups met, he added.

In conclusion, Mr. Otter stressed the brotherly aspect of Y.M.C.A. work, urging the members to co-operate with their fellows in developing the highest aspects of the association's activities.

URGES EXPANSION

Preceding Mr. Otter's talk, E. Tomlin, president of the local association urged expansion of the Victoria branch and increase of the membership roll. He dealt with the work of the association members since the erection of the building, saying that since the war the Y.M.C.A. had lowered its debt from $87,000 to $45,000.

During the evening Mrs. R. B. McKinnon presented the association with a picture of her late husband, the first president of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. to take office after the completion of the present building.

Throughout the evening the various groups represented at the meeting lent a touch of joviality to the gathering with their club yells.

Archie McKinnon, physical director, introduced the prizes won by the different athletes of the association during this year.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Avoid Gas—Indigestion

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid," causing gas, souring, bloating and after-dinner pains, the trouble may be safely and quickly corrected by the use of a good alkaline. Bismarck Magnesia—powder or tablets—is ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you or money back. Reliable druggists everywhere sell Bismarck Magnesia with this guarantee.

NEW PLAN TO AID BRITISH INDUSTRIES

Bankers' Industrial Development Company to Further Reorganization

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
London, April 16—St. Hon. J. H. Thomas outlined in Parliament yesterday the latest scheme for bolstering up Britain's export trade. It is the formation of the Bankers' Industrial Development Company, an organization which has the strongest financial backing and which will aid in the reorganization and rationalization of the basic industries of Great Britain. Mr. Thomas declared the organization has been registered at Somerset House yesterday with a nominal capital of £6,000,000 (about $30,000,000). This was in forty-five A shares and thirteen B shares, each of a value of £100,000 ($500,000).

The company had the support of a very considerable proportion of most of the influential banking and financial institutions of the country, by which the shares had been subscribed, Mr. Thomas explained. The Securities Management Trust Limited had subscribed the B shares.

The company is to receive and consider schemes submitted by basic industries for the purpose of rationalization, either by industries or by regions. In other words, the capital will be made available for combining various groups of businesses in the interests of general efficiency and elimination of waste, but no public money will be involved, Mr. Thomas made plain.

He said the directors of the new company were: Rt. Hon. Montague Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, chairman (Sir Guy Granet, alternate); Baron Bruno Schroder (Major Albert de Pass, alternate); A. E. Wang (Nicol Campbell, alternate); R. Cook, native of Glengarry, Ontario, and C. Bruce Gardner, managing director of Securities Management Trust.

In addition to "Bis" director, Mr. Thomas said, the company would have the services of an advisory council, on which a number of influential financial leaders would be invited to serve. The advisory council would have no other duties to perform, its services, either collectively or individually being available to the board of directors in a consultative capacity.

In the case of schemes which might be approved, he said, arrangements would be made for provision in one way or another, and through existing agencies, of such moneys as might seem to be essential, Mr. Thomas declared.

ARTIST PAINTS MRS. E. E. GANN

U.S. Vice-Presidential Hostess Sits to Russian Painter

Washington, April 16—A portrait of Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, the first she has had made since becoming vice-presidential hostess, has just been completed by Boris B. Gordon, Russian portrait painter.

The picture required eight sittings and took a month to complete. It is being exhibited at a leading hotel and later will be taken by Mrs. Gann to the hotel quarters which she and her husband share with Vice-President Curtis.

Mrs. Gann is shown wearing black velvet, pearls and a blue satin scarf over one shoulder.

Mrs. Gann was the cause of the bitter controversy waged in Washington last year over the question of precedence at official functions.

Nicholas Longworth refusing to recognize Mrs. Gann's official status as vice-presidential hostess.

RAIN AND SLEET FALL IN PLAINS FARM REGION

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, April 15—Sleet and rain lashed Alberta and Saskatchewan today and moved eastward to Manitoba. The downpour—steady in some areas, intermittent in others—broke out of grey skies on Sunday as the first precipitation of the spring for drought-threatened prairie farms.

In Alberta and Saskatchewan, at many points April showers of yesterday afternoon were transformed into heavy downfalls of wet snow or storms of sleet by the dropping night temperatures. Snow was reported at Saskatoon and Prince Albert in northern Saskatchewan, at Qu'Appelle in the southern part of the province. Sleet fell today in Regina, and further rain is threatened at Swift Current to the southwest.

Heaviest downpour of the night came at Calgary, where many farmers had reported serious deficiency in subsoil moisture. One inch of precipitation was recorded by the Dominion Meteorological Service, and damp snow still fell to-day.

Children Cry for it

Children hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and harmless as the recipe reads. (The wrapper tells you just what Castoria contains.)

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, use it to keep the system from clogging. Your doctor will tell you Castoria deserves a place in the family medicine cabinet until your child is grown. He knows it is safe for a boy in his teens. With this special children's remedy handy, you need never risk giving a boy or girl medicine meant for grown-ups. Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

TURKISH BATHS NOW AT GARDEN

A. H. Cowlishaw Announces Further Equipment For Massaging and Baths

In announcing the opening of the new Turkish bath section for men and women, H. A. Cowlishaw, manager of the Crystal Garden, states he has placed the men's hydro department in the capable hands of Harry Lowenberg, a fully qualified Swedish masseur. Mr. Lowenberg was for two years on the staff of a Swedish hospital and was for one year at the famous Urichmann Sanatorium in Sweden. Since coming to Canada, Mr. Lowenberg was a full-time masseur at Harrison Hot Springs, where treatments under his supervision proved entirely satisfactory in cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

The hydro department at the Crystal Garden is equipped to give treatments suitable for every individual requirement, such as steam and electric baths, hot and cold salt water baths, as well as massages. Such a service fills a decided need in the city.

Daily Lenten Thought

By WM. E. GILBOY, D.D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

The illustration may seem homely and inadequate for the greatness of the idea and the ideal, but I have never found anything that quite so aptly illustrates the right attitude of the soul toward God as the story of a negro and his bride.

The negro asked the minister who married him how much he should give him, and the minister facetiously and rather foolishly replied, "How much do you think your bride is worth?" The negro was entirely equal to the occasion. "Pahson," he said, "you'd make me bankrupt for the rest of my life."

That is how every man who has a deep sense of the love of God feels toward that love. It is, moreover, suggestive of the inherent quality and iniquity of all true love—human and divine. Where there is such love or the response to such love, the question is always not how little we can do, or a carping consideration of what we should do. The one thought is, How much can I do for love and in response to love?

Love is never calculating, or if it calculates it is to estimate how much can be given, never how little. "Fullness," "abundance," "eternal"—these are the sort of words in which the New Testament speaks of love of God to men, and our love should move in the same realm of expression. POLICE SEEKING MAN WHO KILLED YOUNG WOMAN

Washington, April 16.—Working on the theory that the brutal murder of Miss Mary Baker, twenty-eight-year-old Navy Department employee, was committed last Friday by a man whom she knew well, Washington and Virginia police to-day continued a steady scrutiny of her list of acquaintances and of her letters and belongings.

Virginia authorities yesterday discovered the ignition key of her automobile and her door key, which had been picked up at a spot a quarter mile from the culvert near the Arlington National Cemetery in which the body was found. The keys were found on a side road in the Department of Agriculture Experimental Farm by an employee while mowing grass. Returning to the spot, the detectives found a blue bordered handkerchief and a doctor's bill bearing Miss Baker's name.

The discovery was followed by a decision to draft a nearby irrigation pond on the theory that missing articles of clothing and possibly the gun with which the shot was taken may have been thrown in the water. Meanwhile Washington detectives were questioning two men, whose names were closely guarded, but who were understood to have been close friends of the murdered girl. Police were confident the examination of the two would yield information helpful in solving the case.

SALE OF LINE TO THE C.N.R. IS NOT PLANNED

Montreal, April 16.—Interviewed with reference to the reaction of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, as reported in Halifax, relative to the suggestion of F. C. Cornell, freight rate expert, that "the Dominion Atlantic Railway in the Canadian National Railways in consideration of the latter granting running rights to the Canadian Pacific over the Intercolonial Railway, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific, stated Mr. Cornell's proposal was entirely his own and had not been inspired or suggested directly by the Canadian Pacific.

"In the circumstances," Mr. Beatty added, "Sir Henry Thornton's observations are more classical than accurate."

BLIND PLAYERS TO APPEAR HERE

Sightless Persons of B.C. Have Formed Remarkable Orchestra

Blind musicians of British Columbia who will play in Victoria in the Empress Hotel ballroom under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club April 25, have formed an orchestra which is one of the most remarkable to ever make a public appearance. There are twelve members, seven of whom are totally blind. There are four ladies in the orchestra. Miss E. Foley who plays the cello and Miss R. McKellar who plays the cornet, are totally blind.

The origin of the Blind Musicians' Orchestra was first conceived in the mind of the late J. A. Johnson, of Vancouver.

Being blind himself and fond of music as a source of entertainment, he foresaw the possibility of enlivening the lives of many sightless men and women who were musically inclined and so formed a musical club.

The object of the club was to assist and further develop any musical talent discovered amongst the blind with a view to bringing them together in a social way. His object was accomplished and the members of the club have not only benefited by their progress in music, but also have derived great pleasure from appearing before the public as entertainers under the leadership of A. Maninjo.

They will appear in Victoria sponsored by the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club, at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Friday, April 25 at 8 p.m., and will present a programme of music in an effort to raise funds to carry on this commendable work amongst the blind.

METROPOLITAN EASTER MUSIC

Cantata "The Darkest Hour" to Be Rendered on Good Friday

An appropriate musical feature on Good Friday will be the recital to be given by the Metropolitan United Choir in the auditorium of the church at 8 o'clock. Harold Moore's sacred cantata, "The Darkest Hour," will be sung by the choir, under the direction of Frederic King, assisted by Mrs. Edward Parson, soprano; Frank Tupman, tenor, and Harry T. Johns, baritone, as soloists.

"The Darkest Hour" is a very beautiful Easter cantata, and as it has not been sung in the city for a number of years, it is anticipated a large number of people will take advantage of the opportunity of hearing it. During the evening Edward Parsons will offer a short organ recital. A collection will be taken up in aid of the choir funds.

This trip East pays dividends

HERE ARE SOME OF THE EXTRAS:

California, Old Mexico, New Orleans... some of the extra attractions...

You may have thought that such a trip—including America's foremost cities and playgrounds—would add too much to the travel budget. But it does not.

To many eastern destinations the fare is exactly the same as via other routes. In other cases the fare is but slightly additional. Here, then, is a trip that pays dividends in extra attractions—world-famous resorts and cities you'll want to visit.

A few "highspots": San Francisco, Del Monte, Los Angeles, Hollywood, El Paso (Juarez just 5 minutes away), New Orleans and the romantic Old South. "100 Golden Hours at Sea," by steamship New Orleans to New York, or all the way by rail if you wish.

No matter what your mid-west or eastern destination, California and other fascinating regions may be included. Any Southern Pacific agent will be glad to show you how you get more for your travel dollar by using Southern Pacific's 4 Great Routes to "Go one way, return another."

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, April 16.—Wheat: The market displayed a decidedly firm tone to-day, prices being higher throughout and reaching top levels in the late trade when gains of about 2 1/2 cents from yesterday's close were recorded. The market was quite active at times, but at others, but on the whole trade volume was fairly large, but on the dips there was very little for sale. There was considerable buying that was credited to seaboard houses as "net overnight sales," which was estimated at around 1,000,000 bushels, but many were of the opinion that total sales were close to 2,000,000 bushels, but part of this was for shipment a little later, considerable one and two northern being taken, of which stocks are ample and available at any time for full carrying charges. There was also considerable short covering by the local crowd; who were disturbed by the better foreign demand and takings. It would seem that several continental countries had bought Canadian wheat overnight, while some American had winter and durum were also taken. There was also a much better tone to the demand for cash wheat and bids were 1/4 to 1/2 better. The weather map for western Canada was again a wet one, showers from light to heavy being general in all three provinces except the eastern part of Manitoba. Some further moisture was received in the southwest, but apparently not much in western Kansas, which is still suffering from lack of moisture. This market will be closed Friday and Saturday.

Course grains: Rye followed the strength in wheat, but oats and barley only partially followed. Trade volume was very light, but there was very little selling pressure. Demand for cash grains is small. Flax: This market was a little firmer, but there is very little doing and no feature.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, April 16.—Whitney, of Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

MORE OF THE SAME

"Another highly irregular session has ended with further evidence contributed to the belief that additional readjustment is needed in the price structure before the market can accomplish much in the way of additional forward movement. The manner in which yesterday's market, which was subject to the normal Tuesday reactionary influences, absorbed a drastic cut in the price of copper metal supplies, gave evidence of a sound underlying structure in a very considerable number of issues, enough soundness with the normal Tuesday influence removed to indicate that further and perhaps more pronounced isolated strength will develop in today's market. The number of issues, however, which can stage any appreciable advance bears very small percentage of relationship to the number traded in, and consequently the advance is continued to proceed on a trading basis with extreme caution and to anticipate simply a continuation of an extremely irregular market until such time as this temporary top is completed.

"One group appears to be particularly immune from the general market tendency, and it will not surprise if the oil group, within the next day or so, develops a pronounced tendency to advance in the face of an irregular or even reactionary market. An advance in mid-continent crude oil and higher prices for gasoline are imminent, gasoline and oil running contrary to the general trend of commodity prices.

COMMENT
"American Can has started an advance in anticipation of which you were advised to buy it yesterday and has already established a new top for the year. Look for further and substantial advance in the issue today with the stock developing as a result, into one of the feature issues in the remaining two sessions of the week.

"With anticipated strength in the oil group, look for Houston Oil to develop as the star performer even though the issue is more properly classified as a utility.

"Associated Dry Goods has entered the 50s as expected, and thus cleared the way for additional advance during the remainder of the week.

"American and Foreign Power, I believe, is in position now to stage its advance across 100, once through that price the way is open for an additional

BIG POWER MERGER
LOOMS IN QUEBEC

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 16.—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 292.30, off 1.08 points for the day; for twenty utilities at 107.33, off 0.88 points.

The increased attention accorded Shawinigan Water and Power at a time when Montreal Power has been so dominant a feature of trading has aroused considerable interest and has given rise to conjecture as to whether there is any relationship between the movements in the two issues. Miller, Court & Co. say today:

While undoubtedly a good deal of the buying of both Montreal Power and Shawinigan has been due to the popularity of public utility issues at the present time, the chief factor in the accumulation in progress is the possibility of more than ordinary developments affecting both corporations. In banking and financial circles usually well informed regarding Montreal Power, the story is heard that events are in the making which will finally result in a consolidation of the two leading power distributors in the province of Quebec.

BANK CLEARINGS
LOSSES ARE CUT

New York, April 16.—The reduction in bank clearings, which has characterized the past few days, is now at much the lowest ratio of loss than at any time during that period.

Total clearings at leading cities in the United States for last week, as reported to Dunn's Review, amounted to $10,879,275,000, the decline from the heavy total of last year being only 6.9 per cent.

At New York City clearings of $7,640,000 are 4.9 per cent lower, while the aggregate for the principal centers outside of New York of $3,245,275,000 is 8.7 per cent below last year's. Larger settlements through the banks are clearly indicated by these returns.

In March the reduction in bank clearings was 17.9 per cent, and in February 23.3 per cent. The declines now continue mainly in the Central West and at some of the Southern centers.

A.T.T. TUMPLES
AS RITES ISSUE IS ANNOUNCED

(By R.C. Bond)

New York, April 16.—(By Associated Press)—Considerable irregularity developed in the final hour of the New York Stock Exchange today when liquidation of numerous stocks was resumed.

U.S. Industrial Alcohol dropped 4 to a 1930 low at 89, and Checker Cab fell 5 1/2.

Some of the high-priced specialties explored new high ground, J. I. Case selling at 315 and Diamond Match 209, Pacific Telephone rose 5 1/2. United Aircraft and Radio were also strong. The close was heavy.

New York, April 16.—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 292.30, off 1.08 points for the day; for twenty utilities at 107.33, off 0.88 points.

American Telephone broke from 271 1/2 to 258 1/2, on realizing sales on the part of short term traders who reasoned that the good news on A.T.T. was out for a while now with the announcement of the rights for new stock, one the basis of one new share for each six now held, at $100 a share.

The A.T.T. rights were admitted to trading this morning, the first sale being 200 at 23.

UTILITIES OFF
There was selling in General Electric, based on reports that the stock is now selling at forty-six times its earnings.

Westinghouse Electric eased from 201 to 195 1/2.

Utilities generally sold off, the downward way being led by A.T.T.

HOWE SOUND AT NEW LOW
In the copper Howe Sound dropped from 263 1/2 to a new low at 24 1/2.

Anacosta sold from 71 1/2 to 73 1/2, on a continuation of the short covering which started yesterday on the announcement of the cut in copper to fourteen cents a pound.

STEELS ACTIVE
U. S. Steel common shot up three points to 197, but then lost its gain.

Vanadium rose from 114 to 122 and then came back to around 118.

American Locomotive dropped three points to a new low for the year at 78 1/2.

EASTMAN STRONG
Eastman Kodak was a strong feature, rising from 240 to 246 1/2 and holding around 244 at the close.

Auburn was firm, rising from 262 1/2 before easing to 255 1/2, but other motors were inclined to be easy.

General Motors to 51.

Montgomery Ward was a firm feature, holding above 45, with A. S. Casper buying 10,000 shares.

Sales for the day totaled 4,379,600 shares.

Call money eased from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.

The Curb, Electric Bond and Share rose from 115 1/2 to 117 1/2, but eased later to 115 1/2.

BEARS SELL STEEL
U. S. Steel has borne the brunt of professional attacks in the last few days. However, the recently released tonnage figures are not entirely conducive to assuming a bearish attitude towards steel.

It is understood that Reynolds Tobacco will concentrate all of its advertising expenditures, amounting to some $16,000,000 for the current year, on its Camel brand, which should result in a substantial gain in the consumption of this product.

SPONSOR WILSON SYSTEM
A new group has been formed to operate in Wilson System. Its sponsors expect to make the stock much more popular and hope to work it up close to the 40 level. It is understood the March earnings were largest for any month in the company's history and outlook for the current year is favorable.

MOTOR EARNINGS SPOTTY
Earnings statements for the first quarter are beginning to make their appearance and the very spotty conditions in the automobile industry are revealed by the statements at hand.

Hupp Motor reported a net profit of $66,789, compared with $1,501,595 for the same quarter last year.

Willys-Overland reported a net of $135,443, as compared with slightly more than $2,000,000 last year.

It is semi-officially estimated that Chrysler broke about even in the first quarter.

Timken Roller Bearing, important but not exclusively dependent upon the motor industry, reported net earnings in the first quarter approximately 25 cents under the same 1929 period.

BENEFIT BY COPPER CUT
Public utilities and electrical equipment companies are among those most favored by the copper price reduction, they being the largest consumers of the metal.

COPPER BAD NEWS OUT
Wall Street Mirror to-day issued the following to its clients:

"With the bad news regarding the cut in the price of copper metal out of the way, Wall Street is disposed to take a different view of the stock market. Those who were most bearish on the market as a whole had been of the opinion that they would be able to cover their short contracts at a big profit on the copper news.

KRESGE BEING BOUGHT
"What might be termed some 'wise' long range buying has been seen in S. S. Kresge common. This issue is scraping on the bottom and purchases made at current levels for the long term period will show excellent profits.

RASCAL IN KILNATOR
Those close to Rascals are reported buying Kilnator. The company had a very good first quarter and is showing earnings at the rate of 94 per share.

CHANCE IN VANADIUM
In view of the marked favor shown to the chemical issues, buying opportunities should be watched for in Vanadium. Any time this stock gets down around 105 again, it should be picked up and held for higher prices than at present.

Those who are on the list of those issues that should be bought on days of weakness. The same thing is true of Liggett & Myers.

SISTERS DROWNED
Brunswick, Maine, April 16.—Two sisters were drowned last yesterday in Chaco Bay, and their twenty-five-year-old male employee barely saved himself as a gunning fleet in which the three were traversing a stretch of water between Prices Point and Current, founded twenty feet off shore.

France Buying In Match Bond Issue

New York, April 16.—The French government has agreed to repurchase $75,000,000 of bonds sold to International Match Company in conjunction with Krueger and Toll, the parent organization. It is understood that $50,000,000 of this total was sold by International Match. The news stimulated buying in Krueger and Toll and International Match preferred.

FRANCE PUTS
HEAVY DUTIES
ON U.S. AUTOS

Paris, April 16.—From ten to sixty per cent higher tariffs on United States automobiles became effective today under a bill passed by the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate. The government contended the law was intended merely to simplify the customs routine by changing from ad valorem to specific duties, but the preamble to the bill and the arguments in Parliament were based upon the theory that the French auto industry needs more protection.

Murder Hearing
To-morrow Afternoon

Preliminary hearing of David Brotherton on a charge of murdering William Walker at Albert Head last Wednesday, will open in the Provincial Police Court at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The hearing will be held in the courtroom at Provincial Police headquarters.

GRAF ZEPPELIN IS AT SEVILLE

Seville, Spain, April 16.—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, which flew over Seville to-day on a flight from Germany to Spain and then cruised over Cadiz, returned here at 5 p.m. and was manoeuvring over Tablada Field, apparently preparing to land.

$100,000 FIRE IN QUEBEC TOWN

Quebec, April 16.—Damage estimated at $100,000 was caused by a fire that destroyed eight buildings and damaged several others in St. Evariste, Quebec, late yesterday. A store and a branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale and a bakery were among the business places destroyed.

GLASGOW RANGERS WIN
SCOTTISH FOOTBALL CUP

A FINE EFFORT
At the end of thirty minutes, Jackson had his team to save, a fine effort from Archibald, which he cleared confidently. Up to this stage the Rangers had been the more convincing side, but the Partick defenders were sound, and Lambie at centre-half, was brilliant. Morton was responsible for two curling centres which threatened danger, but Jackson was not seriously troubled. Most of Partick's corner was carried out on the left wing, Corbett sending over several magnificent crosses.

MARSHALL SCORES
Jackson saved a swerving corner kick from Archibald, who was showing to most advantage than on Saturday, while at the other end Hamilton stopped a magnificent drive from Corbett. Four minutes before the interval steady pressure by the Rangers told its tale, and following a corner from Archibald, which was never completely cleared, several shots were sent in and saved by Jackson. Before Marshall netted from twelve yards range to put the Rangers in the lead, which they held at the interval.

This was the first replay in the Scottish Cup finals since 1914. It recalled the scenes of a second game in the season of 1908-09, when there was a misunderstanding over extra time in the match between Rangers and Celtic.

The crowd set fire to the pay boxes and destroyed the grandstand. Over 1,000 persons were injured. The trophy and medals for individual players were withheld by the Scottish Football Association for that season.

PENSION FUND INCREASED

SETBACK SHORT,
BANK DECLINES

Canada has survived more serious periods of business depression than the present and will return in time to an era of normal prosperity, says this week's review of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

By way of comparison, the review points to the four years of stagnation from 1920 to 1924, and indicates that conditions of today are not comparable with the depression of that period.

"During those four years, conditions became so unfavorable and the era was so prolonged that many Canadians lost heart and some sought employment elsewhere," it says, "but the majority held on, and about their work with determination and from 1925 until the close of 1929 they gathered their reward."

"There is no reason to suppose the present halt in our advance will last more than a fraction of the time occupied by the last pause," the bank has decided, "or that its consequences will be similar."

"Then, there was disorder everywhere. It was necessary to reorganize business activities of the whole world. To-day, no such far-reaching adjustments are impending. Nevertheless, progress is temporarily checked."

NINE FACE TRIAL NOW ON FRAUD CONSPIRACY

$1,415.90 had been paid to Wallis on July 19, 1929 and $672 was still owing on the notes.

Harold Hewlett, accountant for Reisterman, Forman & Co., said he had interviewed Weir on March 28 last with regard to the transaction. Weir admitted his signature was on the agreement but said he had received no cash and that as far as he knew no cash existed.

"I asked him why he signed it," said Weir.

"He replied, 'To help out Wallis,'" said Weir.

Benjamin Good, accountant of the Consolidated Motors Limited, Vancouver, B.C., distributors for Hupmobile cars, testified that no such car as described in the agreement had passed through the firm's hands.

In the Ganner case, a sales agreement for alleged sale of a $2,295 Hupmobile of which $1,445 was discounted with Reisterman, Forman & Co., was made, according to Mr. Forman. Of this amount $945 was still owing. All notes having been met up to last February.

WAS SHOWN A CAR
Mr. Hewlett said he interviewed the defendant on April 10 at his home. After admitting he had signed the notes and the agreement Ganner said he did not take possession of any car but had shown a car in the showroom purporting to be the one described in the agreement.

"I asked him why he did it," said Weir.

"He said Wallis told him it was a method of financing demonstration cars and for getting insurance. He said he did not think there was anything the matter with signing the agreement but that he took the remarks about the insurance with a grain of salt. He also stated that when he signed the agreement he knew it was to be discounted."

"Ganner told me he understood the car had since been sold to a man named Blair. He asked me what I thought he should do and I told him to see a lawyer."

Mr. Good testified that no car existed as described in the agreement.

WITH RITHE CONSOLIDATED
The other cases involved conditional sales agreements discounted by Rithet Consolidated Ltd.

In the case of Tompkins, Louis M. Corke, accountant for Rithet Consolidated, said an agreement for purported sale of a $2,905 car, of which $1,106 was paid cash, was discounted by the firm for $1,698.40. Twelve notes had been issued to cover the balance and none had been paid, the agreement being made on March 1, 1929.

Harry T. Barnes, manager of the firm, told of meeting Tompkins in the office of A. D. MacFarlane, barrister. Tompkins admitted the signature and said he had not intended to purchase a car. He knew when he signed the papers that Wallis intended to get money on them, he told witness.

"The Women Who Talk About the Disillusions of Marriage Are Those Who Thought It Would Be All Billing and Coing, and Who Quit Cold When They Find That, Like Everything Else in Life, It Calls for Work," Declares Dorothy Dix.

TEN MISTAKES WOMEN MAKE IN MARRIAGE

THE SIXTH mistake that women make in marriage is in not realizing that whether they make a success or a failure of their marriages depends largely upon what kind of housekeepers they are. There may be an occasional rare avis of a husband who is all for high thinking and plain living and who is more concerned with the sort of intellectual nourishment his wife feeds him on than he is in the kind of bread she makes.

Possibly Romeo could have made impassioned love to Juliet across a table on which was burnt meat and underdone potatoes and soggy pie, but the average man has more stomach than heart, and when he finds that his bride is not on speaking terms with the gas range or the vacuum cleaner, it deals his affection a solar plexus blow from which it never recovers.

The old rule for holding a husband: Feed the brute, has never been improved upon. Men grow blind to beauty. They weary of it. They become impervious to arts and graces, but they are hungry three times a day. They never cease to crave comfort nor the peace and quiet of a well-ordered, well-run, bright and cheerful home. The woman who is a first-class cook brews a spell in her pots and pans that binds a man to his own fireside, and flappers cannot prevail against it.

The seventh mistake that women make in marriage is in expecting too much of their husbands and of marriage in general. If they could only bring themselves to accept their husbands "as is," as the shipping manifests say, most of them would be happy and content and bless heaven for what they've got instead of being disgruntled and dissatisfied.

Unhappily this is not the case. Every girl builds up a fantastic figure of an impossible creature who is a sort of a composite portrait of Rudy Vallee and Mr. Ford and Job that she expects her husband to be, and when she finds out that she is married to a mere man, who is a little any-on-soft talk if he is long on money-making, or who isn't much good as a bill-payer if he is a glib love-maker, why, she beats upon her breast and cries out that husbands are a false alarm.

And it is the same way about marriage. The women who talk about the disillusion of marriage are those who thought it would be all billing and coing and who quit cold when they find out that, like everything else in life, it calls for work and worry and patience and forbearance and grit and backbone.

The eighth mistake that women make in marriage is in throwing away the bait with which they caught their husbands. Every woman knows that when she was trying to lure her particular John up to the proposing point she doted herself up and put her best foot foremost; that she was so amiable that butter wouldn't melt in her mouth; that she listened to everything that John had to say with hushed breath and that if he had a fault she never let him know that she perceived it.

But, alas, after marriage she drops all of these allurements. She doesn't bother to dress herself up for a mere husband; she develops nerves and temper and she spends her time calling his attention to his weaknesses and shortcomings. Now no man marries to get a critic. He gets knocked enough in the outside world and what he chiefly desires in a wife is a salve-spreader who will plaster over the bruised spots on his vanity with the healing ointment of her admiration and praise. If wives would continue to practice on their husbands the arts with which they ensnared them there would be mighty few men running around hunting up afflictions.

The ninth mistake that women make in marriage is in throwing mother at their husbands' teeth. Young husbands are full of egotism and their most cherished belief is that the sweet little girls they have married regard them as oracles who are capable of settling offhand every problem on earth. Picture, then, their dismay when they find out that their brides pass lightly over their opinions and turn to mother as the infallible dispenser of wisdom. It is a blow to the bridegroom's vanity from which he never recovers and it is the real reason why mother-in-law is nearly always persona non grata to her son-in-law.

Of course, the silly little young wives do not realize the harm they are doing when they quote mother on every occasion, but nevertheless "mother says" is the fighting word in innumerable homes. "Mother says you smoke too much." "Mother says I should have a better car." "Mother says she doesn't see why you belong to so many clubs," and the fat is in the fire. Young Mr. Newlywed isn't going to have any mother-in-law back-seat chattering his household if he knows it, and so mother-in-law is first aid to another divorce.

The tenth mistake that women make in marriage and the most fatal of all is when they cease to be lovers, when they quit trying to vamp their husbands, when they put cold cream on their faces at night and turn an ear for their husbands' kisses and slump down into just being housekeepers instead of lady loves.

Women think they have a monopoly on heart hunger and that they are the only ones who ever crave sentiment and romance, but this is not true. Just as many men as women starve for affection and for a little of the glamour and the glory of the love that is still warm with passion and vibrant with thrills.

It is the warm-hearted, affectionate women who never cease telling their husbands how much they love them, how much they admire them, how much they appreciate them, who keep the home fires burning.

Which one of these ten mistakes do you make, Mrs. Woman?

Horoscope

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1930
Adverse planetary influences appear to prevail to-day, according to astrology. It is a day to be circumspect in all things. Merchants and manufacturers should be cautious in giving orders for the future, which is to offer many trade surprises and to stimulate daring enterprises. This is not a time to start anything of importance, and should be significant to those who can look ahead in their preparations for the coming months and years. It is a day when active construction work should give way to planning and getting ready for coming activities.
